Four Hurt In Three Mishaps

POPLAR BLUFF — Four persons were injured in three accidents early New Year's Day in the Troop E area, the highway patrol reported today.

Steven Wayne Baker, 18, Chaffee, was injured at 12:30 a.m. when his 1956 Chevrolet left highway 77 a mile north of Chaffee while passing another car and crashed into a bridge. Baker was taken to Chaffee hospital with bruises and contusions.

A passenger in Baker's car, Rockey Prim, 17, Chaffee, suffered bruises and a chip fracture of the vertabrae. He, too, was taken to Chaffee hospital.

At 2 a.m., Margaret J. Siggers, 18, East Prairie, suffered minor injuries when she lost control of her 1967 Falcon, ran off the road and turned over in a ditch. She was taken to Missouri Delta Community hospital in Sikeston.

Linda Fay Watkins, 19, Bernie, was injured slightly at 3:15 a.m. when she lost control of her 1967 Pontiac and it hit a tree on the side of the highway 25, four and a half miles south of Malden. She was taken to Dexter hospital.

Benton Man Killed By Car

BENTON — Jimmy D. Angle, 25, Benton, was killed at 2:50 a.m. Saturday on I-55 a half mile south of here after he was hit by a northbound car.

The highway patrol said Angle apparently walked into the path of a 1969 Chevrolet driven by Ellen B. Ewing, 29, Stockton.

Angle was born April 10, 1946, at Cape Girardeau, the son of Camp Woodrow and Florence Angle. He graduated from Kelly High School and was employed as a mechanic at the time of his death.

He is survived by one daughter, Stephanie DeAnn, Rt. one, Sikeston; his mother, Mrs. C. W. Angle, Benton; and three brothers, Dorma Angle, Miner; Wayne Angle, Sikeston; and Larry Angle, Scott City.

The body is at the Bisplinghoff funeral home in Benton where services will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m.

The Rev. Dale Huff, pastor of Unity Baptist church, will officiate, and burial will be in the Forest Hills cemetery near Morley.

Pallbearers will be Jimmy Baker, Danny Reynolds, Wayne Bean, Stanley Emmons, Rudy Emmonds and Donny Emmonds.

13 Fewer Fatalities In '71

POPLAR BLUFF -- Troop E of the highway patrol recorded 13 fewer traffic deaths in 1971 than in 1970, according to figures released today.

A fatality near Cape Girardeau Friday night brought the 1971 count to 158, compared with 171 deaths a year ago, the patrol said.

During the Christmas - New Year's holidays, which ran from midnight Dec. 23 to midnight Jan. 2, Troop E recorded 103 accidents which killed six persons and injured 69.

For 1972, two deaths early Saturday give the area two fatalities in the new year compared to four at this date last year, the patrol said.

Huge Refuse Deposits Noted

MALDEN — The first phase of a four- part solid waste study by the Bootheel Regional Planning Commission reveals a whopping 43 million pounds of commercial refuse is being generated annually by business establishments in Dunklin, Stoddard, New Madrid, Scott, Pemiscot and Mississippi counties.

Jay Waggoner, project engineer of the solid waste study, said the inventory was conducted by physical count and observation of five communities in the six - county area that typify all Bootheel towns.

He said now that the first phase, commercial, of the study has been completed, the next three will be undertaken and completed by August of this year. The other three phases are household, agricultural and hospital waste inventories.

The study is vitally important in determining the best disposal system and the best location for disposal systems for Bootheel communities, Waggoner said.

During December, the commission will assist counties and towns interested in adopting a solid waste disposal system, he concluded.

Six Arrested Over Weekend

CHARLESTON — Six persons were arrested over the weekend and appeared in city court this morning.

Charges of peace disturbance brought a $13 fine to Gloria Garland, 22; Charleston; a $12 fine to Leon Nelson, 29, Charleston; and a $13 fine to Floyd Chapel, 17, Charleston.

Rosalie Slaughter, 31, Charleston, forfeited a $25 bond on the same charge.

Sammy Lee Moore, 39, Charleston, paid a $15 fine for public intoxication, and Ellis Cassell Jr., 17, Charleston, was fined $15 for failure to yield right of way.

Weekend Burglars Busy

Burglars broke into the Sands Lounge, 1129 W. Malone, early Saturday morning and made off with $245.35 in cash and an undetermined amount of change.

The burglary was discovered at 8:45 Saturday morning by Miss Ollie McCormick, 349 School St., manager of the club. She said she arrived for work and found a lock pried off the front door and the cash register looted.

Police said the burglars apparently gained entrance to the building by forcing the front door lock, but they aren't discounting the possibility that entry could have been gained through a broken window on the southwest corner of the building.

Another auto tape theft was reported here Sunday morning, this one by Ronald Wallace, 316 Marion.

Wallace told police burglars had broken into his 1965 Dodge between 5:30 and 6:30 Saturday evening on the Missouri Delta Community hospital parking lot and damaged his tape - player in an attempt to steal it. He said they made off with four pre - recorded tapes.

Cpl. John A. Evans, who investigated, said the thieves apparently used a metal tool to try to pry the player loose from its dash anchor. He said there also was mud on the player, indicating the thieves probably tried to kick it loose.

The burglary was the fourth of its kind here in the past few days.

Mine Lamotte Man Killed

PATTON -- The new year lasted only 45 minutes for Jerry W. Dees, 22, Mine Lamotte. He was killed at 12:45 Saturday morning when his car crashed on highway 72 a mile east of here.

The highway patrol said Dees apparently lost control of his 1968 Chevrolet, which left the road, struck a culvert and overturned several times.

His body was taken to the Baker funeral home in Lutesville.

Tom's Market Broken Into

NEW MADRID — Thieves entered Tom's Market on old Kingshighway Saturday night by breaking a glass out of a front door. Tom Morlan, owner, reported $10 cash was taken from a cash register and nine packs of cigarettes were stolen.

Freshmen Tell About College

By JUDY STROUP

A few months ago they were dressed in gowns and mortarboards, listening to speeches, and waving good-by to the high school friends.

This winter they are college freshmen, away from Sikeston and on their own.

Mark Adams, George Hensley, Tricia Huff, Chuck Leible, Peggy McMullin, and Sally Mitchell attend different colleges, but they all have encountered problems and rewards in that first tough semester.

Except for Hensley, who lives in a fraternity house, all the freshmen live in dormitories.

Most of them based their choice of a college on size and location of the campus. Recently they talked about that important selection.

Adams, who attends Drury College in Springfield, didn't want to attend a large school.

"I talked to a member of the board of trustees, visited the campus and like it, so I applied," he said.

He is majoring in pre-law.

Miss Mitchell, who attends the University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, and Chuck Leible, who attends the University of Mississippi, Oxford, also wanted to attend small schools.

Miss Mitchell, an English education major, wanted "a university in the South with the same school spirit as SHS."

Leible liked the southern traditional campus of "Ole Miss" and he is majoring in business and political science there.

Vanderbilt University, situated in an urban area, appealed to Miss Huff. An English or drama major, she liked Vanderbilt because it is a "medium sized school with a good liberal arts program."

Hensley is the only one of the six who chose to attend a large university.

"I like the size and national ranking of the University of Missouri," he said, "and it offered an ROTC program."

Hensley, a psychology major, attends Reserve Officer Training Corps meetings in addition to university classes.

Adams said he felt the advantage of a small college was small classes. His largest class had 20 students.

Hensley said that at the large university, however, "You learn how to live in a rat race -- like it really is."

Once enrolled and settled in their living units, the freshmen had many problems to cope with. Their comments in question and answer form follow:

Q: What happened the first day of classes?

A: Adams -- "I was just going to wait and see what it would be like. I was scared to death."

Lieble -- "I was just anxious. I found out my English teacher was from Sikeston."

Hensley -- "I had heard all the professors were bald and carried briefcases. I was glad to know they were human."

Q: Who do you go to with an academic or personal problem;

A: Miss McMullin -- "My adviser is great, she's so understanding. Other girls on my dorm floor are helpful, too."

Adams -- "Our deans are the best. They made appointments the first of school to meet the freshmen."

Hensley -- "I'd have to say it's the fraternity, guys like you who have had the same problems."

Miss Huff -- "I have an older sister there which is an advantage. She knew about classes and professors."

Q: What kind of adjustments did you have to make at college?

A: Leible -- "You can do whatever you want to; no one tells you when to study."

Hensley -- "You have to make an adjustment all the way around; even your eating and sleeping habits change."

Miss Huff-- "You have a lot of freedom in college and it's very easy to accept. But I've found out how to organize myself."

Q: How easy is it to squeeze in time for campus activities and clubs?

A: Hensley -- "I spend a lot of time with fraternity responsibilities, but you can make time for a few activities. I attended a leadership retreat."

Q: Other than tuition, what have been your major expenses?

A: Hensley -- "I had over $100 in books to buy. I had 14 books for one class. You drop $20 easily for a big date weekend like a football game."

Miss Mitchell -- "I can spend $10 a week easily and I don't really know where it all goes."

Miss McMullin -- "The snacks we buy to eat in the dorm get expensive."

Miss Huff -- "You can buy books from the bookstore or the students and sell them back at the end of the semester. It's the little things that come up that are expensive.

"In Tennessee, 18 year olds can buy liquor legally and I feel sorry for the boys who spend their money on it for dates."

Except for Hensley, most of the students spent between $50 and $70 for books for the semester. Miss McMullin was able to rent hers.

Q: Since most of your schools are in the south, have they been plagued by racial disturbances?

A: Miss Mitchell -- "The prejudice is there, even though it's not publicized. But there hasn't been any real problem."

Miss Huff -- "Our student body president is black. It's a peaceful coexistence, but it's not really integrated,"

Hensley -- "You are just aware of and sympathetic with other people's problems."

Q: What courses at Sikeston High School best prepared you for college?

Adams: "My history and economics courses really helped a lot. I knew the first part of my economics book before we covered it in class."

Miss Mitchell -- "English, history, and math helped. We had written several research papers in high school and other students at college hadn't. I studied my history notes for college tests."

The six said they were grateful to Mrs. Uriel Haw, retired SHS English teacher for "making us write constantly," and to Mr. Carl Wright, history and economics teacher.

The group listed the following items as essentials for the new college freshman: a typewriter, an alarm clock, an umbrella, a heavy coat, and plenty of blue jeans.

"Bicycles are nice on some campuses," Miss Huff added.

"Bring plenty of instructions on doing laundry and practice sleeping in grubby sheets," Hensley advised.

Each of the six warned new freshmen to be ready to study.

"Classes aren't boring. The things you know are more interesting, like things you didn't know about the government or the meaning of a poem," Hensley said.

Back row: George Hensley, University of Missouri, Columbia; Sally Mitchell, University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa; and Chuck Leible, University of Mississippi, Oxford.

They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Dewavon Adams, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McMullin, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Huff, Mr. and Mrs. George Hensley Jr., Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Mitchell, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. Leible, respectively, all of Sikeston.

First Baby Born

MRS. JERRY GALLUP holds her new daughter, Amber Lorelle, the first baby born in 1972 at the Missouri Delta Community hospital.

The first baby to arrive at Missouri Delta Community Hospital in 1972 was Amber Lorelle Gallup, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Gallup, 1511 Matthews, Sikeston.

She was born at 5:05 a.m. Saturday and weighed seven pounds, 10 ounces. Her mother is the former Lenore Lathrop, daughter of Rev. Edward Lathrop of West Terre Haute, Ind. The baby's father is a construction worker and is the son of Mrs. Frances Gallup of Columbia.

She has an older sister, Glenda Lee, 6.

Jackson Woman Dead, 8 Injured In Pile-Up

CAPE GIRARDEAU — The grim reaper paid a final 1971 visit Friday at 5:55 p.m. on highways 61 and 34, a mile west of here, when six cars piled up and left a Jackson woman dead and eight persons injured, two of them seriously.

Witnesses to the tragic accident told the highway patrol a 1971 Chevrolet pickup driven west by Terry Gene Farrow, 25, Millersville, sideswiped an eastbound St. Louis - Cape Girardeau bus, then glanced off and hit three more eastbound cars and forced another car into a ditch.

Killed at the wheel of her 1966 Buick was Mrs. Thelma R. Besher, 47. Apparently her car was the first hit after the Farrow truck glanced off the bus. Her body was taken to the Cracraft- Miller funeral home in Jackson.

Farrow was injured seriously and is in critical condition in Southeast Missouri hospital here.

Also injured were Bruce Baker, 41, Milford, Ind., driver of a 1968 Buick, and his son, Douglas Baker, 13. They were taken to Southeast Missouri hospital with minor injuries.

Walter Scott Denny, 41, Desloge, driver of a 1970 Pontiac, was taken to the same hospital with serious injuries. Three passengers in his car, Guyann Denny, 28; Scott Denny, 10; and Norman Denny 8, all suffered minor injuries.

Marvin L. Slinkard, 58, Cape Girardeau, probably was the luckiest of the drivers. He swerved his 1970 Mercury into a ditch just before it would have crashed into the five-car heap and escaped with minor injuries.

Neither the bus driver, Edgar Ray Bay, 62, LeMay, nor any of his passengers were injured in the crash.

No charges have been filed yet, but the highway patrol said it is continuing its investigation of the crash.

Man Stabbed In Face

Charles Geiger, Jr., 28, of rural Sikeston, has been charged by police with the 10:15 Saturday night stabbing of Billie Booth on Felker St.

Booth was treated at Missouri Delta Community hospital for multiple cuts and stab wounds of the face and neck and released after the incident but refused to make a statement to police. Geiger also refused to tell police what happened.

However, three witnesses, Jerome and John Blackman of Benton and Eddie J. White, a serviceman on leave from Germany, told police the stabbing happened after a fight between Booth, Geiger and Geiger's brother, Clarence.

The witnesses said the three men had an argument on Felker St. in front of The Boogaloo club. Then, booth got into his car and was about to leave when Clarence Geiger hit him in the head with the butt of a .22 rifle.

Booth then got out of his car and tried to run, the witnesses continued, but he was caught, thrown to the ground and beaten by the Geigers until he managed to escape into the Boogaloo club.

Again the Geigers allegedly followed Booth and continued to beat him inside the club until he crawled out the front door and into the doorway of Wiggins' store next door.

While he lay in the doorway, the witnesses said, Charles Geiger jumped on his back and stabbed him several times. The Geigers then got into their car and were about to leave when police arrived on the scene.

Charles Geiger was booked on charges of felonious assault.

Bandits Get $1 Million

NEW YORK (AP) — Police say a slick gang of bandits, who used a sleek black limousine to lull security guards and gain entrance to the elegant Hotel Pierre, may have made off with more than $1 million in cash and jewelry from 47 safe deposit boxes.

Detectives said one man, whom they did not identify, had satisfied them that he had lost jewelry and money worth $800,000. Chief of Detectives Albert A. Seedman indicated that the early Sunday robbery might turn out to be the biggest hotel heist ever pulled here.

The Pierre, one of the nation's most luxurious hotels, is located on Fifth Avenue at 61st Street, overlooking Central Park. About half of its units are cooperative apartments that sell for $200,000 to $300,000.

To keep out undesirables, the hotel locks its doors between 1 a.m. and 6:30 a.m. But a security guard is posted inside to admit guests.

It was just after 4 a.m. Sunday when the sleek limousine pulled up to the 61st Street entrance. Two well-dressed men got out and carried their bags to the door. They told the guard they had a reservation.

When he unlocked the door, they walked in and the startled guard saw they were carrying guns and one was wearing a rubber nose. Two other gang members apparently followed.

The gang quickly rounded up 16 employes -- including three guards, bell hops and others – and herded them into the executive offices. Using 14 sets of handcuffs and a supply of adhesive tape, they bound the captives and made them lie on the floor.

While the rubber - nosed man stood guard, the other members of the gang went to the battery of safe deposit boxes behind the cashier's office and began forcing them open.

Seedman said the men used a gusts list to select the boxes but the hotel manager, J. V. Bennett, later denied this, saying the boxes were opened randomly.

At one point a guest, Haelio Fragga, a lawyer from Rio de Janiero, telephoned the desk to find out why he could not get an elevator. A gunman donned an operator's jacket and went to the floor.

But when he douldn't make the car go down, he dropped his disguise and took Fragga, his wife and his mother - in - law to the executive offices with the other captives.

At 5:40 a.m., the gang packed its haul in the suitcases and left. A few minutes later, one of the captives got loose and called police.

Murder Charges Filed

JACKSON — J. B. Smith, 53, Cape Girardeau, has been charged with second degree murder in the Friday night shooting of Theodore Frierson, 41, Cape Girardeau, in Cape Girardeau. He will be arraigned in circuit court here this afternoon.

Frierson was shot six times with a .38 pistol at 417 Good Hope about 11:00 Friday night. Four witnesses said there was an argument between Smith and Frierson over a $5 side bet on a crap game.

At the height of the argument, the witnesses said, Frierson drew a .22 pistol and shot Smith in the left forearm. Smith then drew his weapon and killed his assailant, they said.

Smith is being held without bond in the Cape Girardeau county jail here.

Sheriff Dennis Filed Today

BENTON — Sheriff John Dennis filed for re-election this morning in search of a sixth term, according to County Clerk Bob Kielhoffner.

He will be faced on the Democratic ticket in the August 8 primary by J. W. Shuffit of Sikeston who filed for the office last summer. Shuffitt is a former deputy county collector.

Sheriff Dennis was not available for comment this morning, but he now is completing his twentieth consecutive year as Scott County sheriff.

Politics To POWs

WASHINGTON (AP) – Hinting broadly he will seek reelection with Spiro T. Agnew as his running mate, President Nixon has given Americans a glimpse at a campaign - year platform built on his moves for peace abroad and a healthier economy at home.

In an hour - long nationally televised interview Sunday night, Nixon said he will announce by Jan. 14 his decision on running for another term, and added he sees no reason at present to "break up a winning combination" by dumping Vice President Agnew.

Responding to question of CBS correspondent Dan Rather as they sat before a crackling fire in the White House Oval Office, Nixon said:

The rate of withdrawing U. S. troops from Vietnam will continue at present -- or perhaps accelerated -- levels in early 1972. But he indicated that a residual force of 25,000 to 35,000 Americans would stay until prisoners of war are freed.

–He will cut drastically the coverage of his wage -price- rent controls this year if they continue to succeed in trimming the rate of inflation, but some controls may be needed beyond 1972 to keep the economy cool.

--As the nation moves "from war to peace in the year 1972, we are going to bring the unemployment rate below" the 5.8 -per - cent average of the non-war years in the decade of the 1960s.

–He will not allow the Communists to gain "any bargaining advantage due to my desire to affect our election campaign" when he travels to Peking and Moscow for election - year summit talks.

-- The Soviet Union has escalated arms shipments to Egypt and "we will not allow the ... military balance in the Mideast to be shifted" against Israel, which is seeking more U. S. Phantom jets.

--Negotiations still are under way at various levels to free Vietnam POWs. This will be discussed when he goes to Peking and Moscow, and recent Chinese release of two Americans offers "one slightly hopeful note."

THE NEW YEAR

The oldest thing the world knows. The surest proof that the world goes on, and has no intention of stopping. The best reminder men have that they have come far in the world, and will go farther. A time to look forward — the only constructive direction in which to look at any time. A time for resolutions — for the most part better unmade; better to take the chosen course as it has always been, leaving no signposts at the turning. For the safest thing on which to rely is the thing that has been built up in time and character.

PILGRIM SUN OF JANUARY

January, the first month of the paper calendar year but far from the first in warmth for men and accommodation for animals, is a time for marking the movements of the pilgrim sun. True enough, it is least seen — not even 10 hours a day — and least felt now, but like a lever that pires loose a secret treasure, the absence of the sun opens our minds to an elemental drama of nature of whose rhythm we all share. The earth, subsisting without heat, performs no mighty works of growth, the wind currents carry no gentle sounds of the songbirds, the water-courses are as solid as marble tables. But is it all so terrifying? Henry Beston, in "The Outermost House," the modern classic about a year of life on the great beach of Cape Cod, thought not, knowing that January was a sure compass to anyone searching for natural truth.

"... Here at last, in this silence and isolation of winter," wrote Beston, "a whole region was mine whose innermost natural life might shape itself to its ancient courses without the hindrance and inteferences of man. No one came to kill, no one came to explore, no one even came to see ... From the moment that I rose in the morning and threw open my door looking toward the sea to the moment when the spurt of a match sounded in the evening quiet of my solitary house, there was always something to do, something to observe, something to record, something to study, something to put aside in the corner of the mind."

Farm families, far from the oceanside of Mr. Beston but not far from his feelings, also revere the far swing of the sun's winter arc. Fathers, with no fields to plough or harvests to gather, can leisurely dabble in the mending room, re-strapping harnesses, plugging a broken feed bucket ... Lucky are the children in modern America who get to see their fathers at work like this free of the clock of grade levels of starchy clothes, working with the bare hands and, perhaps most visible to a child, working with a full heart. If this is what Januaries can provide, we ought to have more of them.

DEATH ON THE HIGHWAYS

New Year's resolution for drivers: Drive with care. And if you drink, don't drive. Over 1,000 people will be killed each week on the nation's highways this year (the latest figures for 1970 had the annual toll at 55,300). At least 2,000,00 others will suffer injuries before the year is out. Half the highway deaths are caused by drinking drivers. One out of three of these drivers is either a "social drinker" or a youngster who has had "just a couple": the other two are problem drinkers. In 1970 the problem drinker was responsible for some 19,000 auto deaths.

The highway death toll would be far higher if it were not for modern advances in highway design, traffic control and auto engineering. The rate of deaths per 100,000,000 miles of driving is slightly over half what it was a quarter century ago, but the annual toll mounts ever higher as the car population soars.

Motorcyclists have an increasingly bad safety record. Deaths are approaching the 3,000-a-year level; two years ago the toll was under 2,000. If you ride a bike, wear a helmet. Fatalities are about 11% lower in states where helmets are required.

THE NEW IMPERIALISM

During Fidel Castro's visit to Chile, a demonstrator shouted that "Chile is the second country after Cuba that is free of Yankee imperialism!" He, of course, failed to note that Cuba is now discovering the meaning of Soviet imperialism. Cuba has become economically dependent on the Soviet Union. Likewise, Chile's expropriation of Yankee properties will not make Chile an economically viable state. Bolivia's take over of the tin mines years ago did not solve her problems.

It is all too easy for Latin Americans to attribute all their national problems to "Yankee imperialism" and opt for economic nationalism, socialism or communism, only to discover too late that there is no imperialism like Soviet imperialism.

America's relations with Latin American present a dilemna. American government aid and private investment in Latin America are all too easily interpreted as "Yankee imperialism." On the other hand, the withdrawal of such aid would be met with charges of indifference to our neighbors below the Rio Grande.

Ultimately, none but the Latin Americans can solve Latin American problems. No amount of American aid can solve Latin American problems, unless these nations put their own houses in order. The successful solution to Latin problems must come from the Latins themselves, not from the Americans or Russians. The United States did not achieve its greatness by asking other nations to solve its problems. Latin America's future will be achieved in the same way. Its natural resources are equal to those of the United States. It is time that confidence in the human resourcefullness of the Latins be reinforced by the Latins themselves.

MILITARY- INDUSTRIAL COMPLEX REDUX

Old soldiers never die -- they just face away into the executive suites of defense contractors. But the fading away will become just a bit more difficult because Congress demanded to know Friday, the names and numbers of retired military officers and high-level Pentagon civilians who have left government jobs within the past three years to work in the defense industry. The census also will identify former company officials who have moved into Defense Department jobs at grade 13 or higher.

Business Week magazine reports (Nov. 27, 1971): "If there turns out to be a compromising cross-traffic in jobs between defense contractors and the military establishment, Congress may decide to strengthen conflict-of- interest laws." Present statutes are said by critics to be largely ineffective. A 1969 survey showed that 2,122 former top military men were working in defense industries.

President Eisenhower first raised the specter of the "military-industrial complex" in his Jan. 17, 1961, farewell address. The complex's power and influence, he warned, was "felt in every city, every state house, every office of the federal government." Deputy Defense Secretary David Packard provided the latest confirmation of the situation when he told newsmen on Dec. 13 that the government could save $1 billion a year if "political constraints" did not prevent the Pentagon from shutting down military bases he considered unnecessary.

Packard is credited with working to reform the Pentagon's costly weapons - procurement system in an effort to reduce cost overruns and improve quality. The Wall Street Journal reported (Dec. 13, 1971) that Packard's surprise resignation "may enable the military services to increase further their influence and independence within the sprawling Defense Department." Indeed, advance word has it that the Pentagon will seek a $2 billion increase in its fiscal 1973 budget compared with this year -- to $81.5 billion -- despite a winding down of American involvement in Southeast Asia. With unemployment in technologically related industries at a high level, the military - industrial complex can expect a generally friendly hearing on Capitol Hill.

NEW YORK (AP) — What lies ahead in the New Year?

Well, according to our Annual Fuzzy Forecast, if you can afford to, it will be a great time to hibernate or spend in the basement making dandelion wine.

There will be a lot to do in 1972, naturally, but people will expect to get a lot more money for doing it. They won't get as much as they hope for, however, and many of us who have been eating high on the hog will have to go on a diet of pig knuckles. Cooked in white wine and served with champagne, they aren't half bad.

About the best advice you can give anyone who has steady work in 1972 is: "Keep it to yourself—if ,anybody finds out, he may try to take it away from you."

A glance at the old crystal ball also reveals:

The major problem facing everybody old enough to vote is whether life is really worth living in America during a national election year.

The production of political promises will become the nation's chief industry. The presidential ring will be full of hopeful hats, and behind every hat will be a desperate politician trying to talk through it. Many of these aspirants will borrow chicken money from their mothers to make the race.

The final contestants will be Muskie and Lindsay versus Nixon and Agnew. Who will win? The best men, of course. That's why we have elections, it says here.

No reason for undue exultation confronts two great segments of our people—the old and the young. The old will find it harder to live on small money during a creeping inflation; the young will find it harder to find the jobs they need to prove their talent.

Several politicians will attempt to weld these unhappy old people and these discontented young people into a national political bloc. The attempts will fail because neither the old nor the young of this country have enough faith in each other.

The world front:

There are no great wars planned in 1972—only a few new small sporadic ones hardly worth mentioning here. The present small wars will go on as usual.

The international scene can best be depicted by a cartoon showing Uncle Sam, China, Japan, Russia, India and West Germany standing in a circle and patting the one in front of him on the back. Each will also be looking back to be sure it is a hand and not a dagger.

Great Britain will defeat Australia at Cricket.

An English naturalist will claim he has discovered a new bird—the great hammer-beaked twitterbill. Three Soviet ornithologists will make sworn statements that empress Catherine the Great of Rusia had five great hammer-beaked twitterbills in her court aviary at all times.

On the domestic front:

Harvard will drop ten courses in advanced physics and add ten courses in how to speak and write in Mandarin Chinese.

A top official of a world population control agency will try quietly to resign after his wife gives birth to quintuplets.

Prophets of five obscure religious sects will proclaim five days on which the world will come to an end during the year. It won't. Like everybody else, the world is trying to hold on until 1973.

Well, I guess that about wraps up our Annual Fuzzy Forecast for 1972.

ANOTHER UNDERHANDED SCHEME

In the name of environment control, predictions are made that in coming years the government will direct land use, including decisions on farm practices. Apparently, the constitutional right of U. S. citizens to own property and to exercise that right, with a reasonable degree of freedom, is envisioned as superfluous and against the public interest. In the light of this, it is interesting to read about growing meat shortages and discontent among the Soviet people because of the harsh government farm policies. With minor exceptions, Russian peasants control neither their land nor crops. They own neither. They are told what to do by the state hierarchy,which is enmeshed in a maze of bureaucracy and political rivalry.

A great many underhanded schemes have been advanced for depriving U. S. citizens of their liberty. No scheme could do the job with greater finality than gradual emasculation of the right of property ownership. That right is the primary distinction between citizens and peasants——Something of which our forefathers were well aware nearly two centuries ago.

VICTORY AFTER DARKEST DAYS

Constructive citizens can find inspiration in remembering that our infant Republic won the right to exist only after living through the darkest days of the bitter winter of 1777-78. When so many wonder if the fight is worth the effort and if our Republic can be saved, we have only to remember that deadly winter Washington's patriots spent at Valley Forge.

The fires of Freedom, newly kindled by the first people on earth who really believed that mankind could live without a king or keeper, were burning their lowest. When a tyrannical King George III tried to destroy the freedoms which colonists thought rightfully belonged to all English subjects, the colonial militia fired the shot "heard round the world" at the battles of Lexington and Concord, April 19, 1775.

By the time of the Declaration of Independence, July 4, 1776, the 13 colonies had given up ever having the right to elect representatives to Parliament, which levied the taxes, or getting the king to restore the right of local self-government, which he had taken away. The desperate struggle for existance by the colonists was looking like a lost cause by the time of the winter at Valley Forge. Short of food and arms and without proper medical knowledge, the soldiers of General Washington could have given up right then. There was much inclination among the faint-hearted to give up the struggle and let Freedom die.

Stonger hearts prevailed. The patriots did not give up. When the night was coldest and the hour darkest, General Washington counseled: "Put none but Americans on guard tonight." He knew that real patriots would never surrender. We can do no less today.

Agnew Will Run: report Nixon has decided not to dump vice president

WASHINGTON-- The White House these days is of many kinds -- a political abode sharply divided over the future of Spiro T. Agnew.

In his favor is the one-man majority – President Nixon who is rebuffing suggestions and strategems devised to "dump" the Vice President. And on the offensive against Ted Agnew is the still awesome minority of one, John Ehrlichamn.

Ehrlichman, whom I once watched with fascination at dinner in the White House conducting three conversations at once, is target-oriented. And his target is Mr. Agnew. Some of the Vice President's intimates see Ehrlichman, who is the President's assistant for domestic affairs, as Mr. Agnew's prime political enemy in the White House. So do some of the labor chaps who have been approached as possible launchers of a Labor Committee For Nixon.

These ear-to-the-sounding-board labor men have had the full run through of capital guesstimates on the Vice President's future, e.g.: he will go to the Supreme Court; he will be dumped and be named Attorney General in the new Cabinet; he will step down in a gracious gesture for Secretary of the Treasury John Connally.

So when thelabor men are asked by one White House for advice on a national labor committee, they go to the other White House and ask who will run with the President. They will not campaign for Connally even if he offers to exile Judge Boldt and give George Meany the full Pay Board as a New Year's burnt offering.

The intensity of labor's hatred for Connally is such that one of the nation's most highly placed unionists slowly and with methodical deliberation said something recently about Connally and "Dallas" which I can only hint at here.

And this was some time before Connally dubbed AFL-CIO President George Meany arrogant and boorish. Mr. Agnew cooled it a bit by merely suggesting that Meany be given "an introductory lesson in the Ebenezer Scrooge School of Charm."

Of course there are the patterned attacks on Ted Agnew -- in public. But privately none but the militants inside labor take the Vice President as a personal insult. Many of them recall how well he represented them when he was a Maryland labor lawyer.

So those who inquried in that circle of the White House which encompasses the Oval Room were told that President Nixon now sees no reason to break up the Combination. He believes he can win with Ted Agnew. So why dump him? And he has given every sign that he doesn't plan to, it was said.

Back in September, the Vice President was dispatched to defend the new economic policy in quiet and non-abrassive terms.

This he did well. And he has been the link with the nation's governors -- of course, especially with the Republicans. This he does well, albeit one of them is Nelson Rockefeller.

Now the 6-foot-2-inch, newly soft-sell Vice President is about to hit the road again--especially in the industrial belts fist--Cleveland and Birmingham, according to his office calendar.

And he will stride across many a campus to go face-to-face with America's students. His will be a new technique for politicos. He will get off short speeches and then open himself to questions from the floor--all the way from the floor.

When he swings the homefront circuit, he will be doing what he likes best--opening up on domestic issues. This is what he has always wanted -- operation homefront. There are those who know him who chuckle when New York Mayor John Lindsay exiles all from the profession of urbanology. Baltimore hardly runs second to New York as an urban problem child.

It is as much a cross-section of social terminal disease as New York. When governor, Ted Agnew was in the midst of the same urban tempests now becoming the national issue as New York's debonair mayor reaches for the Presidential nomination of his foster party.

But the Vice President never did get the full sweeping change he wanted. Blocking this was and is John Ehrlichman, director of the President's policy-making Domestic Council. He is as close to the President as is Chuck Colson, his "right hand." Ehrlichman is the White House inside middle-of-the-roader. He doesn't see Mr. Agnew's conservative image bringing in new votes if he talks the President and allied strategists into dumping Ted Agnew.

It all actually depends on Richard Nixon who, according to those who say they know, doesn't now see anyone but Spiro Agnew running with him.

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON -- We can now document from secret White House minutes our charge that presidential braintruster Henry Kissinger lied to reporters when he told them the Nixon Admiinstration asn't anti-India.

Contrary to Kissinger's statement to the press, the minutes show that President Nixon not only ordered a pro-Pakistan policy but became furious with his subordiantes for not taking a stronger stand against. India.

"I am getting hell every half hour from the President that we are not being tough enough on India," complained Kissinger at the December 3 strategy session.

Threee days later, according to the minutes, Kissinger "directed that henceforth we show a certain coolness to the Indians. The Indian Ambassador is to be treated at too high a level."

The India-Pakistani conflict was reviewed almost daily by a crisis team known as the Washington Special Action Group. Here's a typical excerpt from the secret minutes for December 4:

"Mr. Helms (The CIA director) opened the meeting by indicating that the Indians were currently engaged in a no-holds-barred attack on East Pakistan and that they had crossed the border on all sides....Although not decreeing a formal declaration of war, President Yahya has stated that 'the final war with India is upon us.'...

"Dr. Kissinger remarked that if the Indians have announced a full scale invasion, this fact must be reflected in our UN statement.

"Mr. Helms indicated that we do not know who started the current action.

"Dr. Kissinger requested that by Monday the CIA prepare an account of who did what to whom and when.

"Mr. DePalma (Assistant State Secretary) suggested that if we refer to the Indian declaration in our discussion in the UN, that we almost certainly will have to refer to remarks by Yahya.

"Dr. Kissinger replied that he was under specific instructions from the President, and either someone in the bureaucracy would have to prepare this statement along the lines indicated or that it would be done in the Whute House.

"Dr. Kissinger asked whether the Indians have stated anything to the effect that they were in an all-out war.

"Mr. Helms said that the terminology was 'no holds barred.'

"Dr. Kissinger asked what the Paks have said. Mr. Helms said the terminology was 'final war with India.' Dr. Kissinger suggested this was not an objectionable term It did not seem outrageous for the Paks to say they were trying to defend themselves.

Later in the meeting, Kissinger instructed: "On AID matters, the President wants to proceed against India only."

The secret minutes of the December 8 meeting shed more light on this:

"Dr. Kissinger emphasized that the President has made it clear that no further foreign exchange (surplus) commodities or development loans could be assigned to India without approval of the White House.

"Mr. Williams (Deputy AID Director) stated there was no problem of anything sliding through.

"Dr. Kissinger inquired what the next turn of the screw might be.

Mr. williams said that the only other possible option was taking a position concerning AID material currently under contract. This, however, would be a very messy problem inasmuch as we would be dealing with irrevokable letters of credit....

"Dr. Kissinger inquired about next year's budget. Mr. Williams stated what goes into the budget did not represent a commitment.

"Dr. Kissinger stated that current orders are to put anything in the budget for India. It was also not to be leaked that AID had put money in the budget for India only to have the 'wicked' White House take it out."

At the same time Kissinger was talking like this behind reporters' backs, he told them to their faces that the U.S.hadn't really sided with Pakistan.

Footnote: Dignified, white-named Kenneth Keating, our conscientious Ambassador to India, also disputed the White House "explanation of development of present conflict and U.S. role in seeking to avert it.

"While I appreciate the tactical necessity of justifying our position publicly," he objected in a secret cable. "I feel constrained to state elements of this particular story do not coincide with my knowledge of the events of the past eight months."

OPERATION NOAH'S ARK

A leathery Texas rancher and the Humane Society of the United States have gotten together to save 500 rare Sika and Axis deer from being slaughtered by hunters.

The ranchers A.C. Stone of Grapevine, Tex., started up the herd 20 years ago with 15 deer. He, his family and friends got to where they loved to watch the animals so much they couldn't shoot them. The herd multiplied.

But when Stone's land was marked for the new Dallas-Fort Worth airport, he had to do something about the deer. He toyed with letting hunters kill them at $250 a head and alternatley, with donating them to local orphanages as meat.

But the Humane Society's troubleshooter, Sue Pressman, heard of the impending doom of the rare animals and began rounding up homes for them. Stone told us that he has 200 to 300 placed now at about $200 per head on lumber company land, in zoos, even in Army camps.

Hartke To Seek Demo Nomination

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — Sen. Vance Hartke of Indiana announced his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination today and said he would campaign in New Hampshire's primary.

He said he would decide on whether to enter presidential preference primaries in other states after his campaign for the March 7 New Hampshire balloting is organized.

Standing in the same spot where the late President John F. Kennedy announced his successful campaign 12 years ago—the lobby of the Sheraton Carpenter Hotel—Hartke said:

"The American people, and the world, cannot afford four more years of Richard Nixon's failures."

But, he added, "if the Democratic party expects to receive the mantle of leadership, it had better start leading. This campaign is all about a country which is fighting for its life. The Democratic party is entitled to have a candidate ready to lead the fight. I am ready."

17 Fire Fatalities Include 12 Children

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seventeen persons died in five fires Sunday and early today. Twelve of the dead were children, including four boys from a California family and three youngsters who died in a Kansas City home.

Thee of the fires occurred Sunday in New York Stte, including a huge blaze at a Pillsbury grain mill in Buffalo where a worker died as rescuers tried to dig him out of a pile of rubble.

A pre-dawn blaze today in Vista, Calif., took the lives of Mrs. Kenneth Collins, 30, and her sons, Bobby, 10; Jimmy, 8; Keith, 6, and Stevie, 1½. The father was reported in fair condition after the fire of undetermined origin raced through their wood and stucco house.

A fire in a Kansas City home early today killed three children of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lofton and left the parents suffering burns, smoke inhalation and shock. Th dead were Lisa, 4; Crelle, 2½, and Joseph Jr., 18 months.

In the Buffalo mill fire, Deputy Fire Commissioner Thomas Lahiff said two other workers were reported missing and were presumed dead. Ten workers were hospitalized, five in critical condition.

City fire officials theorized that a welder's torch set off the explosions and fire but Pillsbury President Terrance Hanold disagreed, saying he had been told no such equipment was in use.

John Regos, one of the 28 men at work at the time of the early morning blast, was pinned alive under debris. He died after receiving the last rites of the Catholic Church and shots of morphine to ease his pain.

More than 175 firemen, using 32 pumpers and ladder trucks, fought the blaze.

Also in Buffalo, a fire early Sunday took the lives of three men. They were identified as Joseph Jaminski and Albert Lang, both 60, and Lawrence Wilson, 35.

Five children, aged five months to six years, were trapped in a blazing house trailer in an isolated area near Pulaski, N.Y., about five miles from Lake Ontario.

The dead, all from the McDonough family, were 6year-old twins, Matthew and Francis, Patricia, 4, Timothy, 3, and Rosemary, 5 months. Their father, Frank McDonough, 49, was hospitalized in good condition with burns.

Two stepsisters and a family friend escaped the fire.

Uncertainty Rings State Capital

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) – An air of uncertainty dominates the state capital as the 1972 Missouri legislature prepares for its formal opening Wednesday.

As usual, there are more questions than answers apparent in a session where most of the important measures to be acted on are re - treads, legislation which has been in the works for several years.

The issues involved have ended in stalemates before, pointing up the well - understood attitude that nothing much is going to happen until the voters decide later this year the direction the state is going to take.

Missouri again is facing severe fiscal problems, and virtually every progressive measure to be considered will be weighed against the state's ability to pay for it.

Those occupying leadership positions in both the House and Senate are involved -- directly or indirectly -- in state or local races. Observers generally agree their performance will not be entirely divorced from political influence as it bears on the issues at hand.

One of the first problems to be faced is an emergency appropriations bill of nearly $25 million to fight water pollution, restore cuts in welfare benefits and augment funds allocated earlier to permit state agencies to continue programs for the remainder of the fiscal year.

Another problem is first to bring state unemployment benefits into line with federal standards, and worry later about reconciling differences between labor and management.

State laws regulating outdoor advertising must also be re-worked to meet federal regulations or else risk forfeiture of about $10 million annually in federal highway funds.

Another key issue is congressional redistricting, a political football in session after session since the U. S. Supreme Court delivered its one man, one vote decree nearly a decade ago.

Not the least of the lawmakers concerns, of course, is the critical problem of financing state aid to education, a factor which currently commands about half the total general revenue available to the state.

And no ready answer has been sighted if the U.S. Supreme Court should outlaw property tax as a means of partially financing education on the elementary and secondary level.

So the questions mount — welfare, legal counsel to indigents, new highways, higher education facilities, hospitals, correctional institutions, voter registration and capital improvements.

The 1972 legislature, it has been suggested, may end up exhausting its energy on such weighty matters as whether professional football games should be outlawed on Christmas Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eugene Shelby

Shelby-Essary

KEWANEE — The Kewanee United Methodist Church was the setting for the double ring ceremony of Doris Jane Essary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Essary of Route 1, Matthews, and Charles Eugene Shelby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Shelby also of Matthews.

The bride escorted down the aisle on her father's arm wore a formal length gown of Angelskin peau de soie and Chantilly type lace. The bodice was enhanced with a row of jeweled scalloped lace, with lace motifs also extending onto the stand - up collar. The empire waistline was traced with a bias band of self fabric. Full Bishop sleeves ended with deep lace - covered cuffs. Two rows of lace trellised down the front of the A-line skirt.

The chapel length mantilla of bridal illusion was completely edged with a band of matching lace, and was held secure with a lace covered Queen Ann tiara.

Reverend Earl G. Statler officiated with Jan Helms playing the organ. The couple knelt while the organist played The Lord's Prayer and the bride, goom and pastor repeated The Lord's Prayer.

Miss Kathy York of Sikeston was maid of honor. Miss Carla Shelby, sister of the groom and Miss Martha Essary, sister of the bride, were the bridesmaids.

The groom chose Fred Daniels of Matthews as best man. Tom Essary, brother of the bride, and Charles Yarbrough were groomsmen. Kim Essary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Essary and niece of the bride served as flower girl. Jay Blankenship, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Blankenship of Kewanee, served as ring bearer.

Brenda Essary, sister of the bride, attended at the guest book.

A reception was held in the church basement immediately following the ceremony. Ginger Therrell, Susie York and Debbie Rudisill served.

Immediately after the reception the couple left for one night in Sikeston and one night at Kentucky Lake.

The bride will graduate from high school in May. The groom is a 1971 graduate of Matthews high school. He is now attending United Electronics Institute and is employed by Arco in Louisville, Kentucky.

The couple will make their home at 531 Denmark, Louisville, Ky.

Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Essary, Milan, Tenn.; Mrs. Goergia Corder, Humboldt, Tenn.; Miss Holly Robinson, Webster Grove; Rev. and Mrs. Bob Hunt and family, Sullivan; Mr. and Mrs. Harriell and Glenn, St. Louis; Charles L. Mrs. Nixon Heads Delegation To Liberia

WASHINGTON (AP) -- Off to Africa Saturday, Mrs. Richard Nixon will embark on a nine-day, 10,000-mile trip that gives her a new role as an official representative and visiting emissary of the President. It's the second foreign trip she has made on her own as first lady. The first was a relief mission to earthquake-stricken Peru in the summer of 1970.

This time, Mrs. Nixon heads a five-member official U.S. delegation to the inauguration of Liberia's new president, William Tolbert, in Monrovia Sunday through Tuesday. And she will go on for official visits to neighboring black West African republics of Ghana and Ivory Coast.

Her schedule includes a range of activities from attending white-tie formal banquets to touring hospitals and schools, watching tribal dances, meeting a African women leaders and shopping in a native market.

The President will give Mrs. Nixon a personal sendoff from Andrews Air Force Base, Md., when she departs at 8 p.m. EST New Year's Day aboard a presidential jet plane. While she is abroad, Nixon will conclude meetings with Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato in California.

A 4,100-mile, non-stop over-night flight across the Atlantic will bring Mrs. Nixon to the Liberian capital Sunday morning. She will be greeted by Tolbert and his wife as their top-ranking foreign guest at inaugural festivities.

A vice president for 19 years, the 58-year-old Tolbert, a wealthy rubber planter, succeeds the late President William Tubman as head of the black republic that was launched in 1822 by freed American slaves. Tubman, who had been president for 23 years, died in Julv.

Mrs. Nixon will review Liberian troops, make a few brief speeches and attend the oath-taking, a colorful parade and the traditional formal inaugural ball and banquet.

She will leave Monrovia Wednesday for a two-day stay in Accra, Ghana, and then spend Jan. 7-9 in Abidjan, Ivory Coast, known as the "African Riviera."

Jan. 16 Commencement Exercises At SEMO

CAPE GIRARDEAU -- Dr. Herbert W. Schooling, interim chancellor of the Columbia campus of the University of Missouri for the past year, will be the speaker Jan. 16 when Southeast Missouri State College holds commencement exercise for the first time ever in the middle of an academic year.

Nearly 300 seniors and graduate students are scheduled to receive bachelor's and master's degree's at the ceremonies, which will begin at 3 p.m. in the auditorium of Academic Hall.

About half of the graduating students will receive bachelor of science in education degrees, and about one-fifth of the class will receive bachelor of science in busines administration degrees.

Southeast Missouri State has traditionally held commencement exercises in the spring, and a few years ago initiated graduation ceremonies at the close of the summer term. However, students finishing their degree requirements at mid-year have previously had to wait until the spring commencement to formally receive their degrees.

Dr. Mark F.Scully, president of Southeast Missouri State, said a mid-year commencement will allow graduating students to invite more members of their families

He also noted that students often found it difficult to return to the campus in May after finishing in January and said students sometimes were handicapped because they did not have a diploma "in hand," even though they had officially completed graduation requirements.

Dr. Schooling began his administration career at UMC as dean of the College of Education in 1963. He was the first person in the history of the UMC campus to be named provost and only the second Columbia campus dean of faculties. He was named to the latter post in 1966 and given the added assignment of provost in 1969.

As provost, Dr. Schooling was the chief official of the chancellor's administrative staff and was concerned with campus-wide operations that relate to the achievement of the university's educational objectives. In his capacity as dean of faculties Dr. Schooling was directly concerned with matters of educational policy, curriculum, aacademic staff, and the budgets of the various campus divisions.

Born in Lawrence County near Pierce City in 1912, Dr. Schooling came to UMC after six years as superintendent of schools at Webster Groves, two years as an associate professor of education at the University of Chicago, and 11 years as superintendent of schools at North Kansas City.

He received his bachelor of arts degree from Southwest Missouri State and both his master's degree and doctorate from the University of Missouri.

Dr. Schooling has been active in professional associations and has served as president of the Missouri Association of Secondary School Principals, the Missouri Association of School Administrators, and the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges.

Ann Landers

Heroin Psalm Put Into Congressional Record

Dear Ann Landers: Senator Sam J. Ervin Jr. of North Carolina inserted this into the Congressional Record. It's a heartbreaker. Will you print it, please?

"King Heroin is my sheperd, I shall always want ...

"These tragic words, part of a twisted rewording of the beloved 23rd Psalm, were discovered recently in Reidsville, N.C., in a closed car alongside a dead heroin addict. She was 23 years old.

"Her death was ruled a suicide. A hookup with the car's exhaust had sent carbon monoxide fumes from a running motor into the vehicle. Here's the complete 'Psalm.'

"King Heroin is my sheperd, I shall always want. He maketh me to lie down in the gutters.

"He leadeth me beside the troubled waters. He destroyeth my soul.

"He leadeth me in the paths of wickedness.

"Yea, I shall walk through the valley of poverty and will fear no evil for thou, Heroin, are with me.

"Thy Needle and Capsule comfort me. Thou strippest the table of groceries in the presence of my family. Thou robbest my head of reason.

"My cup of sorrow runneth over. Surely heroin addiction shall stalk me all the days of my life and I will dwell in the House of the Damned forever."

Also found in the car with the dead woman was this written message:

"Jail didn't cure me. Nor did hospitalization help me for long. The doctor told my family it would have been better, and indeed kinder, if the person who got me hooked on dope had taken a gun and blown my brains out. And I wish to God he had. My God, how I wish it." -- A Reader

Dear Reader: Thank you.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: Somehow, I became the victim of the unwelcome neighbor. I remained victimized by her for two years. Mrs. Noodnik was at my door ringing the doorbell before I was out of bed. She invited herself in, had coffee and stayed. At 11:30 it was necessary for her to go home and take her pills and a nap, so she left. At 5:30 Mrs. Noodnik was back. She had fed her husband a can of tuna for supper and was ready to join us at our dinner table for a cup of coffee.

Every time I backed the car out of the garage she was standing in the driveway with a "request." Would I please bring her a pack of cigarettes or a loaf of bread or a quart of milk or some postage stamps?

My husband got so fed up with her presence he told me that if I didn't keep that woman out of our house he was leaving. You are right, Ann. There is no polite way to handle clods. They must be told off in plain language. They do not understand tact or social grace.

Please keep telling 'em, Ann. People need to hear it again and again and again. --A Slow Learner

Dear Learner: I will, I will, I will. Thanks for writing.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: I enjoyed your statement about family trees, "Too often they turn out an abundance of sap." Please print this added thought: "Also some crooked branches." -- M.B. (Chicago)

Dear Chic: Right, You are. And shady, too.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Saving the Cookies For the Holidays

By POLLY CRAMER

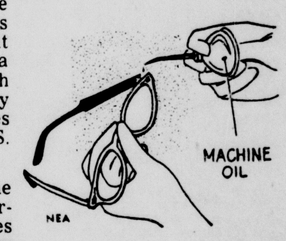

DEAR POLLY—About this time of year my mother is doing her Christmas baking and putting things away in the freezer to be ready for the holidays. Hungry kids used to eat a lot of it ahead of time, then when she wanted to serve something "the cupboard was bare." Last year mother came up with a new idea. She rinsed out one-quart milk containers and let them get perfectly dry. These were packed with cookies, the tops stapled and the contents marked on the outside. Little fingers were kept out and less freezing space was required.—N. N.

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—Please tell me the best way to preserve a new mahogany front door. Also, what is meant by a chemical garden?—RUNAR

DEAR POLLY—My "pettiest" Pet Peeve, and I have many of them, upsets me no end. It is infuriating to be driving and see a little old lady or man slowly walking along bent over or with a bag of groceries and maybe having to use a cane, too, and then actually have to run or certainly hasten his or her pace to get out of the way fast enough. My fury is directed at those hateful smart alecks who have blared on their horns right behind those elderly people and scared them out of their wits so they try to run for fear of being run over. I hope each and everyone of these uncaring, unfeeling people will be reminded of this in later years when they cannot get about so quickly. Some seem to delight in frightening these older ones. I am not aged in case you are wondering; I am 40.—MORRIS

DEAR POLLY—If the hinges on my eyeglasses become "frozen" from salt air or perspiration, I put a drop of machine oil on each hinge and work it gently back and forth. This saves me costly breakage.—MRS. C. E. J.

DEAR POLLY—Bonnie will find that most supermarkets and housewares departments sell a very handy little gadget designed especially for opening cans of condensed milk. It is a stainless steel cover with two prongs. When put on the can it punches two holes and can be used for a cover if the milk is not all used at one time. They come in two sizes and fit both the regular and small tins of milk. I find mine most useful as well as sanitary.—MARY

Rebel Power!

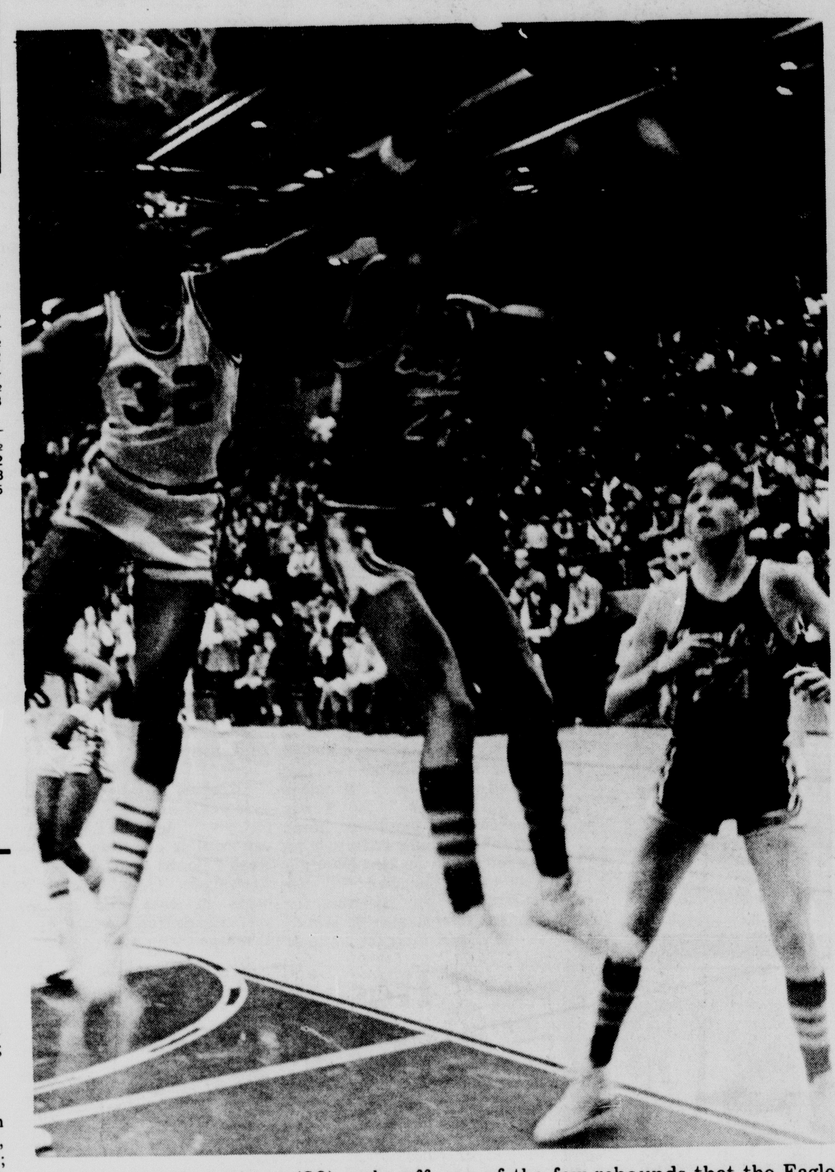

BLOOMFIELD — Coach Larry Joplin's Richland Rebels swept through its final opponent with relative ease to claim the championship of the 15th annual Wildcat invitational basketball tournament New Year's Eve, blasting the events cinderella Oran Eagle team 88-50.

Dexter made off with the third place prize with a mild upset of third seeded Matthews, 56-48.

However it was the Rebels and MHS Pirates who waltzed away with the biggest prizes. Richland's peppy cheerleading group was named the event's top performers and Matthews was named for its second sportsmanship award on the season after having won the Bernie honor earlier.

The final night was anti-climatic to Thursday's semi-final that saw Oran upset Matthews and Richland slip past Dexter.

The Dexter Bearcats took the third place trophy Friday night with a 56-48 victory over the Matthews Pirates. Led by Danny Summers' 18 points and Mike McQuire's 17, the Bearcats' slow-down offense killed the inexperienced Pirates. The turnovers hurt Matthews as well as the fact that for the second straight night their field shooting was erratic. The Pirates rebounded well, led by Raymond Bledsoe and Armand Porter, but they couldn't find the range from the court. Their scoring was led by 5-foot-11 senior guard Gary McWaters who scored 15 points. Armand Porter was next with 12 and Bledsoe had 10. However, the two big sophomores did not match their performances in the first two games of the tournament that the Pirates played.

ORAN'S Robert Gigson (20) grabs off one of the few rebounds that the Eagles got during the championship game of the 15th annual Bloomfield Holiday tournament New Year's Eve. Most of the carooms went to Richland who waltzed to the title behind an 88-50 victory. Dennis Sims (32), Rebel forward, makes a vain attempt for the ball as Oran's Mike LeGrand (24) looks on.

Without the big Richland ballplayers jamming the ball down their collective throats, the Bearcats were deadly. They too rebounded well as neither team had a definite edge in height and both teams got their share of the caroms. Leading the defensive effort and top rebounder for Dexter was 6-foot-3 forward Ralph Thurston.

Dexter was never threatened in the contest. In fact, the only time Matthews led was early in the contest as they held a 4-2 lead. The Bearcats outscored Matthews, 9-2, from there to the end of the quarter and led, 11-6. The score was 24-18 at half for the Bearcats and they held this six to ten point lead the rest of the way. Dexter held the edge in second half scoring, too, 32-30. The only quarter Matthews was able to maintain a scoring edge was the third when they had the edge, 13-12.

The night's final contest was supposed to be the thriller, with the cinderrella Oran team going against number one-seeded Richland. Unfortunately for the Oran fans, the Rebs put any thoughts of upset out of their minds early, jumping to 11 points first half lead, and then continuing to pour it on until the first reserve stepped onto the court with less than two minutes to play. It was the second-largest victory margin in the tournaments history, 88-50, when the buzzer sounded, mercifully ending the game.

The Eagles were unfortunate to pick this night for their cold shooting night of the tourney. If they had hit as they had in earlier games it could have been a different story. However, they weren't hitting and against the Rebels they did not have the rebound power to make up for their shooting. On the night Oran shot 36.2 per cent while Richland hit 50 per cent. But, that was not the difference. The difference was in the rebound department where Richland held a 58-23 bulge, led by 25 big rebounds for John Sims. Sims was superb all night, hitting 29 points as Richland had three men in double figures. John Sims was followed by Norman Cole with 26 points and brother Dennis Sims with 20.

The only advantage for the Eagles on the night was in the turnover department where they had seven less than the loose-playing Rebels, 17-10. However, the Rebels could afford offensive mistakes because they made very few on defense. Paul Taylor led the Eagles with 12 points, while the Rebs held high-scoring Otis Burley to 11 and the team's quarterback, Mike LeGrand got just 10.

The score at half was 38-27 in favor of Richland.

After that things got much worse for the underdogs. Robert Gipson, who was so tough against Matthews, could not seem to find the range. Gipson was held to seven points on the night and none in the third period where Oran was outscored, 28-10. Trailing 66-37 entering the last quarter, the Eagles desperately tried to slow things down, but the Rebs continued to score, holding a 22-13 edge for the quarter.

Farmington Tops At FR

By BILL HARRISON

FLAT RIVER — Third seeded Farmington waltzed to the championship of the holiday classic here Friday night by downing the Leadwood Purple Pups 75-56 to end the 1971 season on a high note and give the Knights a bright basketball outlook in the 1972 year. Lutheran South overpowered the Fredericktown Blackcats 76=51 to take third place.

Fredericktown didn't have enough scoring power to stay with the taller Lancers and never were in the game from the outset as Lutheran South took a 20-12 first period lead and added three more points to their total in the second quarter scoring 18 while holding the Blackcats to 15 and leading 38-27 at the half.

The second half proved to be more frustration for the Fredericktwon team as the Lancers took the third period 14-10 and raced to a 24-14 last quarter advantage.

The lancers held Steve Kamerman to 16 points as the big post man was the Blackcats high man.

6-9 Jose Hesse was the big scorer for the Lancers, scoring 33 points for his nights work.

The big factor in the game were the free throws that Lutheran South hit. The Lancers canned 26 charity tosses to only seven for the Blackcats. The Lancers had only a 25-22 advantage in field goal shooting.

Farmington had too much scoring power for the Leadwood team as the Pups were unable to win their second consecutive championship.

Farmington hit 27 field goal shot to 19 for the Pups. Larry Reid and Terry Mell were the leading scorers for the Knights with 20 points apiece. Merrill led the Pup attack with 16 points.

Leadwood jumped out in front in the first period 17-14 but the Pups had a terrible second quarter and never were able to recover as Farmington scored 16 points in the period to nine for Leadwood and never let up.

With the score 30-26 at the start of the second half, Farmington put everything together and ran up a 26-17 third period edge. The last quarter belonged to Farmington 19-13.

Cape Central Tops Charleston In Final

CAPE GIRARDEAU — Cape Central Coach Dan Mulligan welcomed in the new year as no one else this year, admiring the Championship trophy won by his troops in the College High basketball tournament. His number two seeded Tigers turned in an inspired secondhalf finished to drop the top rated Charleston Blue Jays in a 60-57 finale of the sixteen teamed tourney.

For Coach Mulligan, 1971 was one to be long remembered, as his Tigers accumulated an 11-1 mark in the first half of the 1971-1972 season. Central's lone loss came early in the season as the Bengal crew fell to Fredricktown in the finals of the Farmington tournament.

Central's 60-57 championship effort brought the Tigers its first Championship trophy in the College High Holiday tournament in eight years. Central collected the top honors in both the 1961 and 1962 finals. The victory brought the Cape Central winning streak to nine games.

In the Blue Jays disappointing defeat, the Charleston fans were for the second year in a row left with the second place trophy. Last year the Notre Dame Bulldogs claimed the Championship Trophy in the finals, handing Charleston one of its two defeats in the 1970-71 season. The Sikeston Bulldogs downed the Blue Jays in the finals of the Class L Regional last year for the only other Blue Jays loss.

Fourth seeded Lilbourn, led by Bill Wheeler's 25 point total, claimed the consolation honors of the tourney with a 66-62 overtime victory over the third rated Kelly Hawks. Lilbourn rallied to overcome an eight point deficite in the fourth quarter to send the contest into the extra three minute frame. Lilbourn remained hot and outscoring the Hawks 10-6 in the overtime frame for the third place trophy.

Central and Charleston were tied at half in the championship event, 31-31, as the Tigers put together an 18-15 scoring edge in the second frame to overcome a three point first quarter deficite. Throughout the season, Central's inside shooting had been a big factor in the Tiger's nine game winning streak.

Charleston had managed to choke off the Tiger's inside threat throughout the firsthalf, as the defensive mined Jays check the inside sights of the Tiger's six feet -four Dick Buxton and six foot-five Hunter Stiegemeyer.Bengal coach Dan Mulligan inserted six foot-four Randy Carter in the second quarter, whose outside shooting opened up the Blue Jay defense. Carter's appearance opened up the basket for the Tigers' inside threat. Buxton hit eight buckets in the final half, while Stiegenmeyer in the inside attack joined to paced the Central crew offense.

Central grabbed the lead with 30 seconds remaining in the third quarter and held on throughout the final quarter for the three point victory. Charleston missed a final shot at the championship, as the Blue Jays took three shots at the basket with seconds remaining before Central's Buxton ripped off the rebound. Buxton was fouled and sunk the final two free throws for the 3 point Tiger victory.

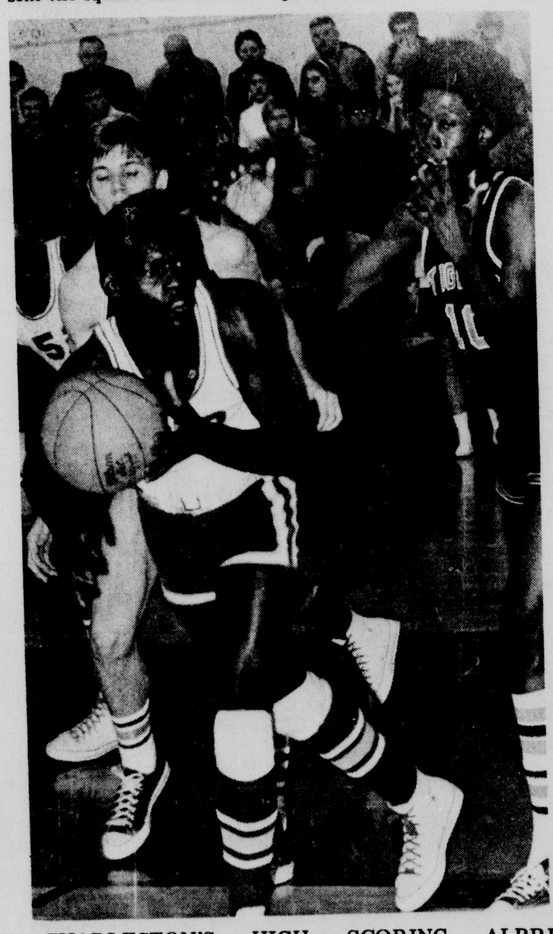

Central put in a 50 per cent showing from the free throw line in the game, good for only four points, while the Blue Jays were five for five from the charity stripe.

Buxton finished the game with 14 points for the Tigers, while teammate Roland Daye, an other six four Bengal, collected scoring honors with his 22 point total.

Charleston's Alvin Pierce pumped in 24 points for the Blue Jays while Albri Cassell added 13.

Bill Wheeler's 25 points paced the Panther's 66-62 win in the consolation game with the Kelly Hawks. Trailing by nine points at half, 28-37, the Panthers put together a second half effort that picked up the nine and sent the squads into the over time frame.

Kelly's six foot one Mike Morrow paced the Hawks from the floor with a 23 point total. Teammate Dirnberger assisted with a 15 point effort.

CHARLESTON'S HIGH SCORING ALBRI CASSELL dribbles around Cape Central's Roland Daye in the Blue jays championship contest with the Tigers in the College High Christmas tournament. Cassell pumped in 13 points for the Charleston squad, while Daye topped the Central scoring with 22 total points. Central picked up the championship trophy with a 60-57 first place finish.

Big 8 Leaders Crush Bowl Opponents

Unbeaten Nebraska erased any question about who's No. 1 in college football by romping to a 38-6 triumph over second - ranked — and previously unbeaten — Alabama in the Orange Bowl Saturday night.

"This is one of the greatest teams ever to play football," boasted Nebraska Coach Bob Devaney.

His courterpart at Alabama, Paul "Bear' Bryant, agreed. "They are one of the greatest — if not the greatest — teams I've ever seen," Bryant said. "We were beaten soundly by a far superior team. Most of the time they just toyed with us."

Nebraska — finishing its season 13-0 and stretching its winning streak to 23 games and its undefeated skein to 32 — overwhelmed Alabama in the first half. The Cornhuskers exploded for four touchdowns within eight minutes, 12 seconds of the first half on offense, while smothering Alabama's wishbone attack on defense.

In other New Year's Day Bowl games, third - ranked Oklahoma roared to a 31-0 halftime lead, then coasted past Auburn 40-22 in the Sugar Bowl; sophomore Rod Garcia booted a 31- yard field goal with 12 seconds left to give Stanford a 13-12 upset victory over No. 4 Michigan in the Rose Bowl and Penn State, trailing 6-3 at the half, surged back to outscore Texas 27-0 in the second half and take a 30-6 decision over the Longhorns in the Cotton Bowl.

In Friday contests, Colorado whipped Houston 29-17 in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl, Georgia squeaked past North Carolina 7-3 in the Gator Bowl and the West squad edged the East 17-13 in the East -West Shrine Game.

The final Associated Press national rankings will not be released until Tuesday, but the Cornhuskers left little doubt about who'll grab the top spot.

Jerry Tagge masterfully guided the Nebraska offense to a 28-0 halftime lead, capitalizing on frequent miscues by Alabama. Johnny Rodgers turned in the game's most electrifying play, a 77-yard punt return in the first quarter for Nebraska's second touchdown.

And all the while, Nebraska'd defense stifled Alabama quarterback Terry Davis, running back Johnny Musso and their teammates.

"I guess we hit a little too tough and a little too quick," said All-American middle guard Rich Glover, a 234-pound terror on defense for Nebraska.

Meanwhile, in the other locker room, Musso sat with head bowed and moaned:

"We were so bad."

Jack Mildren, the most valuable player in the Sugar Bowl, quarterbacked Oklahoma's Wishbone offense to perfection as the Sooners whipped No. 5 Auburn. Mildren led the Sooners to 439 yards rushing, personally picking up 149 yards on 30 carries, including touchdown runs of five, four and seven yards.

Pat Sullivan, Auburn's Heisman Trophy winning quarterback, completed 20 of 44 passes for 250 yards and one touchdown, but was held in check by the Sooner defense until the third quarter, by which time Oklahoma had built up a 34-0 lead.

"There is no doubt they are the biggest, strongest, finest looking team I've seen," Sullivan raved.

The field goal by Garcia in the Rose Bowl climaxed a dramatic last - minute drive engineered by Stanford quarterback Don Bunce.

Taking over with 1:48 remaining to play, Bunce moved his team 78 yards in eight plays, including five complete passes for 66 yards.

"We were really pulling some plays out of the air at the end," Bunce said after the game. "I was so excited I didn't even know what I was calling. All the plays on that last drive were audibles."

Michigan had taken a 12-10 lead late in the fourth quarter on a safety when Ed Shuttlesworth tackled Jim Ferguson of Stanford in the Indians' end zone. Ferguson was trying to run back a short field goal attempt.

Penn State, licking its wounds after losing to Tennessee 31-11 in a nationally televised regular season finale, made believers out of the Texas Longhorns with a powerful defensive effort. The Nittany Lions caused five Texas fumbles and held the Longhorns without a touchdown — something that had not happened in 80 games.

"I don't think we ever had a bigger win when we needed one," said Penn State Coach Joe Paterno.

"They deserved to win in every respect," conceded Texas Coach Darrell Royal.

All-American running back Lydell Mitchell gained 146 yards on 27 carries for Penn State, including one touchdown on a one -yard run.

Sophomore tailback Charlie Davis gained 202 yards on 37 carries to pace Colorado in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl.

Defense dominated the Gator Bowl, with Jimmy Poulos scoring the game's only touchdown on a 25-yard run. Poulos gained 161 yards for Georgia and was voted the game's most valuable player.

SMU's Gary Hammond threw two touchdowns to lead the West team to victory in the 47th annual Shrine East - West game. Hammond also caught two passes as a flanker and played some at running back.

MU Faces Ohio U. Tuesday

COLUMBIA, Mo. — Missouri's Big Eight tournament champions try to maintain their hot hand against Ohio U. in Athens Tuesday night. Tipoff is at 6:30 p.m. CST.

The Bobcats (3-5) currently are struggling to get their basketball house in order. After stunning Ohio State and Indiana, Coach Jim Snyder's team has dropped four straight to Michigan, Detroit, Cincinnati and Marshall.

Missouri, meantime, is away to its best start in Coach Norm Stewart's five-year hitch at his alma mater. The Tigers are 10-1, with that only blemish inflicted by Kentucky, 83-79, in the Kentucky Invitational.

The Bengals cut down Kansas State, 67-58, to win their first conference tourney trophy in 17 years at Kansas City Thursday night. John Brown, Mizzou's 6-ft. 7 scoring and rebounding ace, earned the Most Valuable Player award and a first-team tournament berth. His front-court cohorts – sophomore Al Eberhard and hustling Mike Jeffries -- were second team choices.

Stewart lauded Missouri's defense for its consistency throughout the three-game tournament grind. But -- the Bengals also kept intact on a foreign court their 50 per cent shooting accuracy.

Ohio U. nearly exploded the Tiger's Brewer field house mystique last winter, finally bowing in a double overtime, 91-83. Harassing Mizzou with a pressing defense, the Bobcats lost five players on excessive fouls.

After this final non-league test, Missouri will be idle until a mid-January road trip into Oklahoma. The Tigers open conference action against Oklahoma and Oklahoma State.

Cowboys Sink 49ers

DALLAS (AP) — A bloodied young quarterback on his way to stardom and a veteran defensive end fighting for his job keyed the perennial "Next Year's Champion" Dallas Cowboys into the Super bowl Sunday for the second consecutive year.

Quarterback Roger Staubach, a three - year man from Navy, scrambled San Francisco dizzy in a 14-3 National Conference title victory in Texas Stadium and defensive end George Andrie made the big defensive play.

"Look out Super Bowl," said Cowboy tackle Bob Lilly.

"Some fans sort of ridiculed our play last year and I think we have something to prove."

There was little disappointment among the Cowboys playes that they would not get a chance for revenge against Baltimore in the Super Bowl and instead would play Miami.

"We never really cared about the opponent," said linebacker LeRoy Jordan. "I said last year we would be back. And we are going to do it this time."

Andrie's interception of a John Brodie pass and his six-yard run to the 49er two -yard line in the second quarter was the defensive gem of bitterly fought game. Calvin Hill, who later left the game with an injured knee, crashed across from one -yard out for the touchdown.

Dallas' 7-0 lead held up until Bruce Gossett kicked a 28-yard field goal to make it 7-3 in the third period.

Andrie, who had shared duty this year with Pat Toomay, said, "It was just an impulsive play. We had studied San Francisco's screen plays. We were blitzing and I just saw the screen coming. Brodie threw the ball right to me. I don't think he saw me."

Andrie was tackled by Brodie and took severe ribbing from his teammates.

"George didn't wait for my block," said Dallas' other defensive end Larry Cole.

Staubach finally took some pressure off the Doomsday Defense with an 80-yard drive in 14 plays deep in the fourth quarter.

Staubach, who had guided Dallas to nine consecutive victories, nailed tight end Bill Truax for 22 yards on a crucial third - and - four situation at the Dallas 45 on the drive.

Then the former Heisman Trophy winner scrambled for eight yards — his fifth run of the day against the 49ers. Duane Thomas climaxed the drive with a two - yard touchdown run. "I was having a hard time the way San Francisco was double teaming both receivers," Staubach said. "The ball was taking off on me. I didn't want to put it up for an interception. Remember, I'm just a young guy."

Staubach got a bloodied elbow and was asked if he suffered it on one of his scrambles.

"I think I got it when I came off the field and coach Tom Landry bit me," Staubach joked.

Landry said Staubach's wild scrambles certainly aren't planned.

"He runs enough without any plays," smiled Landry.

San Francisco coach Dick Nolan said, "Roger's scrambling certainly helped."

Linebacker Frank Nunley added, "I think he's sometimes overlooked as a great passer because people think of him as a scrambler. He's a great passer."

And Nunley predicted, "Dallas is going to win the Super Bowl, There's no doubt in my mind."

Dallas limited San Francisco to nine first downs and intercepted Brodie three times.

SPORTS BRIEFS

Many Happy Returns

Abe Woodson holds the NFL record for most seasons leading the league in kick-off returns. The University of Illinois speedster paced the loop three times while playing for San Francisco.

Lion Power

Steve Owens, the hard-running back who is starring for the Detroit Lions this season after a lackluster rookie year in 1970, is the fifth former Heisman Trophy winner to play for Detroit. Frank Sinkwich, Doak Walker, Leon Hart and Howard "Hopalong" Cassady also went on to become Lions after earning the trophy in college.

Royal Relations

Arkansas University defensive tackle Archie Bennett is descended from a Samoan princess, whom his grandfather, a missionary, married.

Plimpton Perspective

George Plimpton, the Mittyesque author, has this comparison to make between the Detroit Lions, with whom he trained in 1964 and the Baltimore Colts, his "teammates" for three weeks this summer: "The Lions were a group of very distinctive individuals — a variety of characters. If one had to find a word to fit the Baltimore team of 1971 it would be 'solidarity.' Perhaps that is a quality that comes with being champion."

The Baron Reigns

Kentucky's 70-year-old patriarch, Adolph Rupp, has the best lifetime record among college basketball coaches who have coached at least five seasons. Rupp's 853 wins and .823 winning percentage give him a comfortable margin over second-place Johnny Wooden of UCLA, who has 553 wins and a .783 percentage. Rupp is also the only coach to lead a college team in more than 1,000 games.

Philosophy

When Alabama's Crimson Tide marched 97 yards to score against the University of Houston in a tough game, Houston coach Bill Yoeman was asked how he felt about it. "Actually," he said, "I would just as soon see a nine-yard drive. It's much easier on the equipment."

Homer's Pace

Homer Jones is the all-time NFL leader in yards-per-pass reception with a 22.3 yard average on 224 catches in seven seasons.

Dubious Distinction

Hal Greer of the Philadelphia 76ers is closing in on Dolph Schayes' all-time NBA record for most personal fouls committed in a career. Schayes was whistled for 3,667 infractions while Greer started the current season with 3,504.

Rushing Habit

Washington Redskin defensive end Verlon Biggs says getting a quick start off the line is vital to rushing the passer. "It's got to become automatic," he says. "It's like eating in the dark. Your elbow bends and your mouth flies open. It's got to be a habit like that."

Twins Carriers

Kentucky Colonel guard Darel Carrier has a twin brother, Harel.

Miami Blanks Colts On Way To Super Bowl

MIAMI (AP) — Batten down the hatches, New Orleans. Fasten your seat belts, Dallas Cowboys. You haven't seen anything yet.

The Miami Dolphins are Super Bowl bound, and they take with them the hopes of the downtrodden and the loudest, wildest cheering section in professional football.

The Dolphins, the one time step-child of the American Football League, keep bumping off the big boys. And the people here on this sub-tropical Peninsula just keep on yelling, screaming, bragging and waving handkerchiefs until the outsider fears his ears and nerves will surely pop.

It's the 1969 baseball Mets with palm trees, green sweat shirts and helmets.

On Sunday, it was time for the champion Baltimore Colts - the poised team of Johnny Unitas and gargantuan Bubba Smith- to get their come-uppance just as the Kansas City Chiefs got theirs in double overtime the week before.

The Dolphins whipped the Colts 21-0 - the first shutout for the defending National Football League Champions since the Chicago Bears pulled one off Dec. 5, 1965 - and qualified to meet the Dallas Cowboys in the Super Bowl at New Orleans Jan. 16.

Delphin fans fell into a state of hysteria.

Now nobody is shrugging off this brash band of former raga-muffins, coached by Don Shula and quarterbacked by Bob Griese, five years out of Purdue - least of all the vanquished Colts.

"Can Miami beat the Cowboys? I don't know why not," said Baltimore's 38-year-old field general, Unitas. "They're a fine team. Griese is a good quarterback. They have a good rush. They don't make many mistakes.

The 6-foot-8, 265-pound Bubba Smith, black, bearded and dazzled by the systematic destruction of the great Colts team, was quick to agree.

"You bet," said Smith. "But they gotta run the ball and they gotta rush the passer. They do things like our team is famous for doing, capitalizing on the other team's mistkaes and then hitting when you got the other team groggy. They're good."

The beaten giant - hours after the final score had gone on the scoreboard - still was unwilling to believe that disaster had really struck.

"It's a mystery to me — I don't understand it," he mumbled in his beard, shaking his head. "I think this team is better than the one a year ago when we won. It's the best Baltimore team in the five years on the squad.

"Yet these guys went out and beat us at our own game."

Don McCafferty, who moved up to head coach when Don Shula left the Colts to take over the Dolphins' meager fortunes two years ago, offered his own considered version of the upset. "They came up with the big plays," he said, "and we didn't.

When we needed a filed goal, we missed. When we needed a pass, we didn't get it. When we needed five yards on third down, we failed."

The Dolphins produced a textbook victory. They gave Unitas breathing room and then stopped him cold when he started to threaten. Their blocking was decisive, their tackling vicious, they struck with merciless swiftness.

The game was little more than eight minutes old when Griese faded back and arched a pass into the arms to wide receiver Paul Warfield on the Baltimore 40. Warfield, in full stride, caught the ball over Rick Volk's shoulder and then won the race to the goal line - a 75-yard thrust. Little Garo Yepremian kicked the first of his three extra points. With 4: 33 left in the third period, a Unitas pass to Eddie Hinton was tipped by defender Curtis Johnson. Safety Dick Anderson caught it in the air and, behind great blocking, raced 62 yards to score. Now it was 14-0.

The Dolphins dealth the coup de grace in the last period, Larry Csonka scoring from the five after a 50-yard Griese pass to Warfield.

The Colts, who beat the Cowboys in the Super Bowl here a year ago on a 32-yard field goal by Jim O'Brien, played without hard-running Norm Bulaich and with only partial service from workhorse Tom Matte, both injured.

But it's doubtful that the staunchest Colts fan would think the two men's presence might have altered the outcome.

EVERYBODY FIGHTS

BLOEMFONTEIN, South Africa (AP) — Two teenage amateur boxers stopped mixing it up in the ring and burst out crying when they saw their fathers fighting in the audience.

The parental dispute became a free for all when would-be peacemakers started brawling.

AN UNIDENTIFIED CHARLESTON player makes an attempt to steal the ball from Cape Central's Randy Carter in the Blue Jay-Tiger championship bout of the College High Christmas tournament. Carter scored 11 points for the Tigers as they posted a 60-57 victory over the top seeded Charleston team for the championship.

Is now the time to buy land?

Acquiring that new farm without delay might seem more practical if you considered the benefits of financing through the Federal Land Bank. Today's expensive land is easier to pay for when its cost is amortized over extra years with a long-term Land Bank Loan. Your total cost of borrowing, too, can be less with a Land Bank loan.

As your local Land Bank Association, we offer a complete loan service: We know current land values; we will inspect the property being considered. We will examine your overall plans and resources, and make an income projection. We will then make a loan recommendation that fits your needs precisely and, whenever possible, provide the capital it takes to meet your goals.

Gentlemen:

I just finished reading a small article in the Southeast Missourian, stating your organization together with five others across the State was opposed to the soft drink tax to support an expanded conservation program.

I am witnessing our own Cape County dwindle and succumb to the asphalt, concrete and bulldozer. Uncontrolled development is rapidly consuming our acres, which results in an irregular and unhealthy community. Sikeston and Scott County has lots of growing room, so you think, but lets take a look down I-55 from Chicago to New Orleans fifty or a hundred years from now. It doesn't take much foresight to realize our children and grandchildren will not have a forest or field to walk in. Irresponsible farming practices have consumed your forest for the most part now.

I can't imagine a young group of people, such as your organization, having young families and not realizing the need for this conservation effort. I am of the opinion the decision to oppose the soft drink issue was reached by the board and not by a vote from the floor.

Also, from the article in the Southeast Missourian, I feel you are not very well informed. I ask you, take time to study the total issue before you condemn a worthy effort.

I have referred to this bill as a tax, because that is the way people who oppose the issue refer to it. Rather, I as a middle age, middle income, city dweller would not call it a tax at all, but a token price to the land that will give us more peace -of - mind than cars, dollars, or gross sales.

Look to your south and vision what your county will be if we don't use careful planning and yes, controls to build a harmonious situation between industry and agriculture. Careful planning includes setting aside land for public use, and there is no better organization to handle this job than the Missouri Conservation Commission. Could you imagine living in the State of Missouri without them?

Just concerned, with no dollar profit attached.

Yours very truly,
Willaim E. Masterson
Cape Girardeau, Mo.

P.S. Could this be read at your next meeting? Or better yet, could I have five to thirty minutes time at your next meeting?

Champagne, Caviar Business Booming

NEW YORK (AP) - The year 1971 may have been a time of economic belt - tightening, but champagne and caviar sales suggest that many Americans are preparing to welcome in the new year in lavish style.

Dealers and importers of the "bubbly" and top quality eggs of the sturgeon reported demand for both luxury items was strong, with little price resistance by customer.

Caviar was in short supply and in most shops the prices are higher than last year.

Imported champagne was plentiful -- stocks were laid in before the 10 per cent surcharge was imposed temporarily and before the dock strike on the East Coast. Prices were holding fairly steady but there are warnings that after the holidays there will be increases.

Domestic champagne, the bulk of which is produced in California, also was in good supply. A spokesman for the California wine growers said there had been only slight price increases since last year, the boosts depending on the type of wine.

"This is a big year for us," said a spokesman for Sherry-Lehman, Inc., a New York wine and spirits store. "Champagne is flowing like water around here."

He said some customers were buying for next year in anticipation of higher prices -- due to currency devaluation and rising prices for grapes in France.

In Dallas, champagne sales were brisk. An official of Neiman -Marcus Co. said: "They bought all we could get our hands on," but declined to give sales figures.

Fifty 12-bottle packages of Bollinger French 1966 vintage, priced at $89.95 each, "sold out in a hurry" at Stop and Shop, Chicago's largest gourmet store.

The caviar trade, despite short supplies and rising prices, still found demand firm.

Four Hurt In Three Mishaps

POPLAR BLUFF — Four persons were injured in three accidents early New Year's Day in the Troop E area, the highway patrol reported today.

Steven Wayne Baker, 18, Chaffee, was injured at 12:30 a.m. when his 1956 Chevrolet left highway 77 a mile north of Chaffee while passing another car and crashed into a bridge. Baker was taken to Chaffee hospital with bruises and contusions.

A passenger in Baker's car, Rockey Prim, 17, Chaffee, suffered bruises and a chip fracture of the vertabrae. He, too, was taken to Chaffee hospital.

At 2 a.m., Margaret J. Siggers, 18, East Prairie, suffered minor injuries when she lost control of her 1967 Falcon, ran off the road and turned over in a ditch. She was taken to Missouri Delta Community hospital in Sikeston.

Linda Fay Watkins, 19, Bernie, was injured slightly at 3:15 a.m. when she lost control of her 1967 Pontiac and it hit a tree on the side of the highway 25, four and a half miles south of Malden. She was taken to Dexter hospital.

Benton Man Killed By Car

BENTON — Jimmy D. Angle, 25, Benton, was killed at 2:50 a.m. Saturday on I-55 a half mile south of here after he was hit by a northbound car.

The highway patrol said Angle apparently walked into the path of a 1969 Chevrolet driven by Ellen B. Ewing, 29, Stockton.

Angle was born April 10, 1946, at Cape Girardeau, the son of Camp Woodrow and Florence Angle. He graduated from Kelly High School and was employed as a mechanic at the time of his death.

He is survived by one daughter, Stephanie DeAnn, Rt. one, Sikeston; his mother, Mrs. C. W. Angle, Benton; and three brothers, Dorma Angle, Miner; Wayne Angle, Sikeston; and Larry Angle, Scott City.

The body is at the Bisplinghoff funeral home in Benton where services will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m.

The Rev. Dale Huff, pastor of Unity Baptist church, will officiate, and burial will be in the Forest Hills cemetery near Morley.

Pallbearers will be Jimmy Baker, Danny Reynolds, Wayne Bean, Stanley Emmons, Rudy Emmonds and Donny Emmonds.

13 Fewer Fatalities In '71

POPLAR BLUFF -- Troop E of the highway patrol recorded 13 fewer traffic deaths in 1971 than in 1970, according to figures released today.

A fatality near Cape Girardeau Friday night brought the 1971 count to 158, compared with 171 deaths a year ago, the patrol said.

During the Christmas - New Year's holidays, which ran from midnight Dec. 23 to midnight Jan. 2, Troop E recorded 103 accidents which killed six persons and injured 69.

For 1972, two deaths early Saturday give the area two fatalities in the new year compared to four at this date last year, the patrol said.

Huge Refuse Deposits Noted

MALDEN — The first phase of a four- part solid waste study by the Bootheel Regional Planning Commission reveals a whopping 43 million pounds of commercial refuse is being generated annually by business establishments in Dunklin, Stoddard, New Madrid, Scott, Pemiscot and Mississippi counties.

Jay Waggoner, project engineer of the solid waste study, said the inventory was conducted by physical count and observation of five communities in the six - county area that typify all Bootheel towns.

He said now that the first phase, commercial, of the study has been completed, the next three will be undertaken and completed by August of this year. The other three phases are household, agricultural and hospital waste inventories.

The study is vitally important in determining the best disposal system and the best location for disposal systems for Bootheel communities, Waggoner said.

During December, the commission will assist counties and towns interested in adopting a solid waste disposal system, he concluded.

Six Arrested Over Weekend

CHARLESTON — Six persons were arrested over the weekend and appeared in city court this morning.

Charges of peace disturbance brought a $13 fine to Gloria Garland, 22; Charleston; a $12 fine to Leon Nelson, 29, Charleston; and a $13 fine to Floyd Chapel, 17, Charleston.

Rosalie Slaughter, 31, Charleston, forfeited a $25 bond on the same charge.

Sammy Lee Moore, 39, Charleston, paid a $15 fine for public intoxication, and Ellis Cassell Jr., 17, Charleston, was fined $15 for failure to yield right of way.

Weekend Burglars Busy

Burglars broke into the Sands Lounge, 1129 W. Malone, early Saturday morning and made off with $245.35 in cash and an undetermined amount of change.

The burglary was discovered at 8:45 Saturday morning by Miss Ollie McCormick, 349 School St., manager of the club. She said she arrived for work and found a lock pried off the front door and the cash register looted.

Police said the burglars apparently gained entrance to the building by forcing the front door lock, but they aren't discounting the possibility that entry could have been gained through a broken window on the southwest corner of the building.

Another auto tape theft was reported here Sunday morning, this one by Ronald Wallace, 316 Marion.

Wallace told police burglars had broken into his 1965 Dodge between 5:30 and 6:30 Saturday evening on the Missouri Delta Community hospital parking lot and damaged his tape - player in an attempt to steal it. He said they made off with four pre - recorded tapes.

Cpl. John A. Evans, who investigated, said the thieves apparently used a metal tool to try to pry the player loose from its dash anchor. He said there also was mud on the player, indicating the thieves probably tried to kick it loose.

The burglary was the fourth of its kind here in the past few days.

Mine Lamotte Man Killed

PATTON -- The new year lasted only 45 minutes for Jerry W. Dees, 22, Mine Lamotte. He was killed at 12:45 Saturday morning when his car crashed on highway 72 a mile east of here.

The highway patrol said Dees apparently lost control of his 1968 Chevrolet, which left the road, struck a culvert and overturned several times.

His body was taken to the Baker funeral home in Lutesville.

Tom's Market Broken Into

NEW MADRID — Thieves entered Tom's Market on old Kingshighway Saturday night by breaking a glass out of a front door. Tom Morlan, owner, reported $10 cash was taken from a cash register and nine packs of cigarettes were stolen.

Freshmen Tell About College

By JUDY STROUP

A few months ago they were dressed in gowns and mortarboards, listening to speeches, and waving good-by to the high school friends.

This winter they are college freshmen, away from Sikeston and on their own.

Mark Adams, George Hensley, Tricia Huff, Chuck Leible, Peggy McMullin, and Sally Mitchell attend different colleges, but they all have encountered problems and rewards in that first tough semester.

Except for Hensley, who lives in a fraternity house, all the freshmen live in dormitories.

Most of them based their choice of a college on size and location of the campus. Recently they talked about that important selection.

Adams, who attends Drury College in Springfield, didn't want to attend a large school.

"I talked to a member of the board of trustees, visited the campus and like it, so I applied," he said.

He is majoring in pre-law.

Miss Mitchell, who attends the University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, and Chuck Leible, who attends the University of Mississippi, Oxford, also wanted to attend small schools.

Miss Mitchell, an English education major, wanted "a university in the South with the same school spirit as SHS."

Leible liked the southern traditional campus of "Ole Miss" and he is majoring in business and political science there.

Vanderbilt University, situated in an urban area, appealed to Miss Huff. An English or drama major, she liked Vanderbilt because it is a "medium sized school with a good liberal arts program."

Hensley is the only one of the six who chose to attend a large university.

"I like the size and national ranking of the University of Missouri," he said, "and it offered an ROTC program."

Hensley, a psychology major, attends Reserve Officer Training Corps meetings in addition to university classes.

Adams said he felt the advantage of a small college was small classes. His largest class had 20 students.

Hensley said that at the large university, however, "You learn how to live in a rat race -- like it really is."

Once enrolled and settled in their living units, the freshmen had many problems to cope with. Their comments in question and answer form follow:

Q: What happened the first day of classes?

A: Adams -- "I was just going to wait and see what it would be like. I was scared to death."

Lieble -- "I was just anxious. I found out my English teacher was from Sikeston."

Hensley -- "I had heard all the professors were bald and carried briefcases. I was glad to know they were human."

Q: Who do you go to with an academic or personal problem;

A: Miss McMullin -- "My adviser is great, she's so understanding. Other girls on my dorm floor are helpful, too."

Adams -- "Our deans are the best. They made appointments the first of school to meet the freshmen."

Hensley -- "I'd have to say it's the fraternity, guys like you who have had the same problems."

Miss Huff -- "I have an older sister there which is an advantage. She knew about classes and professors."

Q: What kind of adjustments did you have to make at college?

A: Leible -- "You can do whatever you want to; no one tells you when to study."

Hensley -- "You have to make an adjustment all the way around; even your eating and sleeping habits change."

Miss Huff-- "You have a lot of freedom in college and it's very easy to accept. But I've found out how to organize myself."

Q: How easy is it to squeeze in time for campus activities and clubs?

A: Hensley -- "I spend a lot of time with fraternity responsibilities, but you can make time for a few activities. I attended a leadership retreat."

Q: Other than tuition, what have been your major expenses?

A: Hensley -- "I had over $100 in books to buy. I had 14 books for one class. You drop $20 easily for a big date weekend like a football game."

Miss Mitchell -- "I can spend $10 a week easily and I don't really know where it all goes."

Miss McMullin -- "The snacks we buy to eat in the dorm get expensive."

Miss Huff -- "You can buy books from the bookstore or the students and sell them back at the end of the semester. It's the little things that come up that are expensive.

"In Tennessee, 18 year olds can buy liquor legally and I feel sorry for the boys who spend their money on it for dates."

Except for Hensley, most of the students spent between $50 and $70 for books for the semester. Miss McMullin was able to rent hers.

Q: Since most of your schools are in the south, have they been plagued by racial disturbances?

A: Miss Mitchell -- "The prejudice is there, even though it's not publicized. But there hasn't been any real problem."

Miss Huff -- "Our student body president is black. It's a peaceful coexistence, but it's not really integrated,"

Hensley -- "You are just aware of and sympathetic with other people's problems."

Q: What courses at Sikeston High School best prepared you for college?

Adams: "My history and economics courses really helped a lot. I knew the first part of my economics book before we covered it in class."

Miss Mitchell -- "English, history, and math helped. We had written several research papers in high school and other students at college hadn't. I studied my history notes for college tests."

The six said they were grateful to Mrs. Uriel Haw, retired SHS English teacher for "making us write constantly," and to Mr. Carl Wright, history and economics teacher.

The group listed the following items as essentials for the new college freshman: a typewriter, an alarm clock, an umbrella, a heavy coat, and plenty of blue jeans.

"Bicycles are nice on some campuses," Miss Huff added.

"Bring plenty of instructions on doing laundry and practice sleeping in grubby sheets," Hensley advised.

Each of the six warned new freshmen to be ready to study.

"Classes aren't boring. The things you know are more interesting, like things you didn't know about the government or the meaning of a poem," Hensley said.

First Baby Born

MRS. JERRY GALLUP holds her new daughter, Amber Lorelle, the first baby born in 1972 at the Missouri Delta Community hospital.

The first baby to arrive at Missouri Delta Community Hospital in 1972 was Amber Lorelle Gallup, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Gallup, 1511 Matthews, Sikeston.

She was born at 5:05 a.m. Saturday and weighed seven pounds, 10 ounces. Her mother is the former Lenore Lathrop, daughter of Rev. Edward Lathrop of West Terre Haute, Ind. The baby's father is a construction worker and is the son of Mrs. Frances Gallup of Columbia.

She has an older sister, Glenda Lee, 6.

Jackson Woman Dead, 8 Injured In Pile-Up

CAPE GIRARDEAU — The grim reaper paid a final 1971 visit Friday at 5:55 p.m. on highways 61 and 34, a mile west of here, when six cars piled up and left a Jackson woman dead and eight persons injured, two of them seriously.

Witnesses to the tragic accident told the highway patrol a 1971 Chevrolet pickup driven west by Terry Gene Farrow, 25, Millersville, sideswiped an eastbound St. Louis - Cape Girardeau bus, then glanced off and hit three more eastbound cars and forced another car into a ditch.

Killed at the wheel of her 1966 Buick was Mrs. Thelma R. Besher, 47. Apparently her car was the first hit after the Farrow truck glanced off the bus. Her body was taken to the Cracraft- Miller funeral home in Jackson.

Farrow was injured seriously and is in critical condition in Southeast Missouri hospital here.

Also injured were Bruce Baker, 41, Milford, Ind., driver of a 1968 Buick, and his son, Douglas Baker, 13. They were taken to Southeast Missouri hospital with minor injuries.

Walter Scott Denny, 41, Desloge, driver of a 1970 Pontiac, was taken to the same hospital with serious injuries. Three passengers in his car, Guyann Denny, 28; Scott Denny, 10; and Norman Denny 8, all suffered minor injuries.

Marvin L. Slinkard, 58, Cape Girardeau, probably was the luckiest of the drivers. He swerved his 1970 Mercury into a ditch just before it would have crashed into the five-car heap and escaped with minor injuries.

Neither the bus driver, Edgar Ray Bay, 62, LeMay, nor any of his passengers were injured in the crash.

No charges have been filed yet, but the highway patrol said it is continuing its investigation of the crash.

Man Stabbed In Face

Charles Geiger, Jr., 28, of rural Sikeston, has been charged by police with the 10:15 Saturday night stabbing of Billie Booth on Felker St.

Booth was treated at Missouri Delta Community hospital for multiple cuts and stab wounds of the face and neck and released after the incident but refused to make a statement to police. Geiger also refused to tell police what happened.

However, three witnesses, Jerome and John Blackman of Benton and Eddie J. White, a serviceman on leave from Germany, told police the stabbing happened after a fight between Booth, Geiger and Geiger's brother, Clarence.

The witnesses said the three men had an argument on Felker St. in front of The Boogaloo club. Then, booth got into his car and was about to leave when Clarence Geiger hit him in the head with the butt of a .22 rifle.

Booth then got out of his car and tried to run, the witnesses continued, but he was caught, thrown to the ground and beaten by the Geigers until he managed to escape into the Boogaloo club.

Again the Geigers allegedly followed Booth and continued to beat him inside the club until he crawled out the front door and into the doorway of Wiggins' store next door.

While he lay in the doorway, the witnesses said, Charles Geiger jumped on his back and stabbed him several times. The Geigers then got into their car and were about to leave when police arrived on the scene.

Charles Geiger was booked on charges of felonious assault.

Bandits Get $1 Million

NEW YORK (AP) — Police say a slick gang of bandits, who used a sleek black limousine to lull security guards and gain entrance to the elegant Hotel Pierre, may have made off with more than $1 million in cash and jewelry from 47 safe deposit boxes.

Detectives said one man, whom they did not identify, had satisfied them that he had lost jewelry and money worth $800,000. Chief of Detectives Albert A. Seedman indicated that the early Sunday robbery might turn out to be the biggest hotel heist ever pulled here.

The Pierre, one of the nation's most luxurious hotels, is located on Fifth Avenue at 61st Street, overlooking Central Park. About half of its units are cooperative apartments that sell for $200,000 to $300,000.

To keep out undesirables, the hotel locks its doors between 1 a.m. and 6:30 a.m. But a security guard is posted inside to admit guests.

It was just after 4 a.m. Sunday when the sleek limousine pulled up to the 61st Street entrance. Two well-dressed men got out and carried their bags to the door. They told the guard they had a reservation.

When he unlocked the door, they walked in and the startled guard saw they were carrying guns and one was wearing a rubber nose. Two other gang members apparently followed.

The gang quickly rounded up 16 employes -- including three guards, bell hops and others – and herded them into the executive offices. Using 14 sets of handcuffs and a supply of adhesive tape, they bound the captives and made them lie on the floor.

While the rubber - nosed man stood guard, the other members of the gang went to the battery of safe deposit boxes behind the cashier's office and began forcing them open.

Seedman said the men used a gusts list to select the boxes but the hotel manager, J. V. Bennett, later denied this, saying the boxes were opened randomly.

At one point a guest, Haelio Fragga, a lawyer from Rio de Janiero, telephoned the desk to find out why he could not get an elevator. A gunman donned an operator's jacket and went to the floor.

But when he douldn't make the car go down, he dropped his disguise and took Fragga, his wife and his mother - in - law to the executive offices with the other captives.

At 5:40 a.m., the gang packed its haul in the suitcases and left. A few minutes later, one of the captives got loose and called police.

Politics To POWs

WASHINGTON (AP) -- Hinting broadly he will seek reelection with Spiro T. Agnew as his running mate, President Nixon has given Americans a glimpse at a campaign - year platform built on his moves for peace abroad and a healthier economy at home.

In an hour - long nationally televised interview Sunday night, Nixon said he will announce by Jan. 14 his decision on running for another term, and added he sees no reason at present to "break up a winning combination" by dumping Vice President Agnew.

Responding to question of CBS correspondent Dan Rather as they sat before a crackling fire in the White House Oval Office, Nixon said:

The rate of withdrawing U. S. troops from Vietnam will continue at present -- or perhaps accelerated -- levels in early 1972. But he indicated that a residual force of 25,000 to 35,000 Americans would stay until prisoners of war are freed.

–He will cut drastically the coverage of his wage -price- rent controls this year if they continue to succeed in trimming the rate of inflation, but some controls may be needed beyond 1972 to keep the economy cool.

--As the nation moves "from war to peace in the year 1972, we are going to bring the unemployment rate below" the 5.8 -per - cent average of the non-war years in the decade of the 1960s.

–He will not allow the Communists to gain "any bargaining advantage due to my desire to affect our election campaign" when he travels to Peking and Moscow for election - year summit talks.

-- The Soviet Union has escalated arms shipments to Egypt and "we will not allow the ... military balance in the Mideast to be shifted" against Israel, which is seeking more U. S. Phantom jets.

–Negotiations still are under way at various levels to free Vietnam POWs. This will be discussed when he goes to Peking and Moscow, and recent Chinese release of two Americans offers "one slightly hopeful note."

Murder Charges Filed

JACKSON — J. B. Smith, 53, Cape Girardeau, has been charged with second degree murder in the Friday night shooting of Theodore Frierson, 41, Cape Girardeau, in Cape Girardeau. He will be arraigned in circuit court here this afternoon.

Frierson was shot six times with a .38 pistol at 417 Good Hope about 11:00 Friday night. Four witnesses said there was an argument between Smith and Frierson over a $5 side bet on a crap game.

At the height of the argument, the witnesses said, Frierson drew a .22 pistol and shot Smith in the left forearm. Smith then drew his weapon and killed his assailant, they said.

Smith is being held without bond in the Cape Girardeau county jail here.

Sheriff Dennis Filed Today

He will be faced on the Democratic ticket in the August 8 primary by J. W. Shuffit of Sikeston who filed for the office last summer. Shuffitt is a former deputy county collector.

Sheriff Dennis was not available for comment this morning, but he now is completing his twentieth consecutive year as Scott County sheriff.

THE NEW YEAR

The oldest thing the world knows. The surest proof that the world goes on, and has no intention of stopping. The best reminder men have that they have come far in the world, and will go farther. A time to look forward — the only constructive direction in which to look at any time. A time for resolutions — for the most part better unmade; better to take the chosen course as it has always been, leaving no signposts at the turning. For the safest thing on which to rely is the thing that has been built up in time and character.

PILGRIM SUN OF JANUARY

January, the first month of the paper calendar year but far from the first in warmth for men and accommodation for animals, is a time for marking the movements of the pilgrim sun. True enough, it is least seen — not even 10 hours a day — and least felt now, but like a lever that pires loose a secret treasure, the absence of the sun opens our minds to an elemental drama of nature of whose rhythm we all share. The earth, subsisting without heat, performs no mighty works of growth, the wind currents carry no gentle sounds of the songbirds, the water-courses are as solid as marble tables. But is it all so terrifying? Henry Beston, in "The Outermost House," the modern classic about a year of life on the great beach of Cape Cod, thought not, knowing that January was a sure compass to anyone searching for natural truth.

"... Here at last, in this silence and isolation of winter," wrote Beston, "a whole region was mine whose innermost natural life might shape itself to its ancient courses without the hindrance and inteferences of man. No one came to kill, no one came to explore, no one even came to see ... From the moment that I rose in the morning and threw open my door looking toward the sea to the moment when the spurt of a match sounded in the evening quiet of my solitary house, there was always something to do, something to observe, something to record, something to study, something to put aside in the corner of the mind."

Farm families, far from the oceanside of Mr. Beston but not far from his feelings, also revere the far swing of the sun's winter arc. Fathers, with no fields to plough or harvests to gather, can leisurely dabble in the mending room, re-strapping harnesses, plugging a broken feed bucket ... Lucky are the children in modern America who get to see their fathers at work like this free of the clock- of grade levels, of starchy clothes, working with the bare hands and, perhaps most visible to a child, working with a full heart. If this is what Januaries can provide, we ought to have more of them.

DEATH ON THE HIGHWAYS

New Year's resolution for drivers: Drive with care. And if you drink, don't drive. Over 1,000 people will be killed each week on the nation's highways this year (the latest figures for 1970 had the annual toll at 55,300). At least 2,000,00 others will suffer injuries before the year is out. Half the highway deaths are caused by drinking drivers. One out of three of these drivers is either a "social drinker" or a youngster who has had "just a couple": the other two are problem drinkers. In 1970 the problem drinker was responsible for some 19,000 auto deaths.

The highway death toll would be far higher if it were not for modern advances in highway design, traffic control and auto engineering. The rate of deaths per 100,000,000 miles of driving is slightly over half what it was a quarter century ago, but the annual toll mounts ever higher as the car population soars.

Motorcyclists have an increasingly bad safety record. Deaths are approaching the 3,000-a-year level; two years ago the toll was under 2,000. If you ride a bike, wear a helmet. Fatalities are about 11% lower in states where helmets are required.

THE NEW IMPERIALISM

During Fidel Castro's visit to Chile, a demonstrator shouted that "Chile is the second country after Cuba that is free of Yankee imperialism!" He, of course, failed to note that Cuba is now discovering the meaning of Soviet imperialism. Cuba has become economically dependent on the Soviet Union. Likewise, Chile's expropriation of Yankee properties will not make Chile an economically viable state. Bolivia's take over of the tin mines years ago did not solve her problems.

It is all too easy for Latin Americans to attribute all their national problems to "Yankee imperialism" and opt for economic nationalism, socialism or communism, only to discover too late that there is no imperialism like Soviet imperialism.

America's relations with Latin American present a dilemna. American government aid and private investment in Latin America are all too easily interpreted as "Yankee imperialism." On the other hand, the withdrawal of such aid would be met with charges of indifference to our neighbors below the Rio Grande.

Ultimately, none but the Latin Americans can solve Latin American problems. No amount of American aid can solve Latin American problems, unless these nations put their own houses in order. The successful solution to Latin problems must come from the Latins themselves, not from the Americans or Russians. The United States did not achieve its greatness by asking other nations to solve its problems. Latin America's future will be achieved in the same way. Its natural resources are equal to those of the United States. It is time that confidence in the human resourcefullness of the Latins be reinforced by the Latins themselves.

MILITARY- INDUSTRIAL COMPLEX REDUX

Old soldiers never die -- they just face away into the executive suites of defense contractors. But the fading away will become just a bit more difficult because Congress demanded to know Friday, the names and numbers of retired military officers and high-level Pentagon civilians who have left government jobs within the past three years to work in the defense industry. The census also will identify former company officials who have moved into Defense Department jobs at grade 13 or higher.

Business Week magazine reports (Nov. 27, 1971): "If there turns out to be a compromising cross-traffic in jobs between defense contractors and the military establishment, Congress may decide to strengthen conflict-of- interest laws." Present statutes are said by critics to be largely ineffective. A 1969 survey showed that 2,122 former top military men were working in defense industries.

President Eisenhower first raised the specter of the "military-industrial complex" in his Jan. 17, 1961, farewell address. The complex's power and influence, he warned, was "felt in every city, every state house, every office of the federal government." Deputy Defense Secretary David Packard provided the latest confirmation of the situation when he told newsmen on Dec. 13 that the government could save $1 billion a year if "political constraints" did not prevent the Pentagon from shutting down military bases he considered unnecessary.

Packard is credited with working to reform the Pentagon's costly weapons - procurement system in an effort to reduce cost overruns and improve quality. The Wall Street Journal reported (Dec. 13, 1971) that Packard's surprise resignation "may enable the military services to increase further their influence and independence within the sprawling Defense Department." Indeed, advance word has it that the Pentagon will seek a $2 billion increase in its fiscal 1973 budget compared with this year -- to $81.5 billion -- despite a winding down of American involvement in Southeast Asia. With unemployment in technologically related industries at a high level, the military - industrial complex can expect a generally friendly hearing on Capitol Hill.

NEW YORK (AP) — What lies ahead in the New Year?

Well, according to our Annual Fuzzy Forecast, if you can afford to, it will be a great time to hibernate or spend in the basement making dandelion wine.

There will be a lot to do in 1972, naturally, but people will expect to get a lot more money for doing it. They won't get as much as they hope for, however, and many of us who have been eating high on the hog will have to go on a diet of pig knuckles. Cooked in white wine and served with champagne, they aren't half bad.

About the best advice you can give anyone who has steady work in 1972 is: "Keep it to yourself—if ,anybody finds out, he may try to take it away from you."

A glance at the old crystal ball also reveals:

The major problem facing everybody old enough to vote is whether life is really worth living in America during a national election year.

The production of political promises will become the nation's chief industry. The presidential ring will be full of hopeful hats, and behind every hat will be a desperate politician trying to talk through it. Many of these aspirants will borrow chicken money from their mothers to make the race.

The final contestants will be Muskie and Lindsay versus Nixon and Agnew. Who will win? The best men, of course. That's why we have elections, it says here.

No reason for undue exultation confronts two great segments of our people—the old and the young. The old will find it harder to live on small money during a creeping inflation; the young will find it harder to find the jobs they need to prove their talent.

Several politicians will attempt to weld these unhappy old people and these discontented young people into a national political bloc. The attempts will fail because neither the old nor the young of this country have enough faith in each other.

The world front:

There are no great wars planned in 1972—only a few new small sporadic ones hardly worth mentioning here. The present small wars will go on as usual.

The international scene can best be depicted by a cartoon showing Uncle Sam, China, Japan, Russia, India and West Germany standing in a circle and patting the one in front of him on the back. Each will also be looking back to be sure it is a hand and not a dagger.

Great Britain will defeat Australia at Cricket.

An English naturalist will claim he has discovered a new bird—the great hammer-beaked twitterbill. Three Soviet ornithologists will make sworn statements that empress Catherine the Great of Rusia had five great hammer-beaked twitterbills in her court aviary at all times.

On the domestic front:

Harvard will drop ten courses in advanced physics and add ten courses in how to speak and write in Mandarin Chinese.

A top official of a world population control agency will try quietly to resign after his wife gives birth to quintuplets.

Prophets of five obscure religious sects will proclaim five days on which the world will come to an end during the year. It won't. Like everybody else, the world is trying to hold on until 1973.

Well, I guess that about wraps up our Annual Fuzzy Forecast for 1972.

ANOTHER UNDERHANDED SCHEME

In the name of environment control, predictions are made that in coming years the government will direct land use, including decisions on farm practices. Apparently, the constitutional right of U. S. citizens to own property and to exercise that right, with a reasonable degree of freedom, is envisioned as superfluous and against the public interest. In the light of this, it is interesting to read about growing meat shortages and discontent among the Soviet people because of the harsh government farm policies. With minor exceptions, Russian peasants control neither their land nor crops. They own neither. They are told what to do by the state hierarchy,which is enmeshed in a maze of bureaucracy and political rivalry.

A great many underhanded schemes have been advanced for depriving U. S. citizens of their liberty. No scheme could do the job with greater finality than gradual emasculation of the right of property ownership. That right is the primary distinction between citizens and peasants——Something of which our forefathers were well aware nearly two centuries ago.

VICTORY AFTER DARKEST DAYS

Constructive citizens can find inspiration in remembering that our infant Republic won the right to exist only after living through the darkest days of the bitter winter of 1777-78. When so many wonder if the fight is worth the effort and if our Republic can be saved, we have only to remember that deadly winter Washington's patriots spent at Valley Forge.

The fires of Freedom, newly kindled by the first people on earth who really believed that mankind could live without a king or keeper, were burning their lowest. When a tyrannical King George III tried to destroy the freedoms which colonists thought rightfully belonged to all English subjects, the colonial militia fired the shot "heard round the world" at the battles of Lexington and Concord, April 19, 1775.

By the time of the Declaration of Independence, July 4, 1776, the 13 colonies had given up ever having the right to elect representatives to Parliament, which levied the taxes, or getting the king to restore the right of local self-government, which he had taken away. The desperate struggle for existance by the colonists was looking like a lost cause by the time of the winter at Valley Forge. Short of food and arms and without proper medical knowledge, the soldiers of General Washington could have given up right then. There was much inclination among the faint-hearted to give up the struggle and let Freedom die.

Stonger hearts prevailed. The patriots did not give up. When the night was coldest and the hour darkest, General Washington counseled: "Put none but Americans on guard tonight." He knew that real patriots would never surrender. We can do no less today.

WASHINGTON -- We can now document from secret White House minutes our charge that presidential braintruster Henry Kissinger lied to reporters when he told them the Nixon Admiinstration asn't anti-India.

Contrary to Kissinger's statement to the press, the minutes show that President Nixon not only ordered a pro-Pakistan policy but became furious with his subordiantes for not taking a stronger stand against. India.

"I am getting hell every half hour from the President that we are not being tough enough on India," complained Kissinger at the December 3 strategy session.

Threee days later, according to the minutes, Kissinger "directed that henceforth we show a certain coolness to the Indians. The Indian Ambassador is to be treated at too high a level."

The India-Pakistani conflict was reviewed almost daily by a crisis team known as the Washington Special Action Group. Here's a typical excerpt from the secret minutes for December 4:

"Mr. Helms (The CIA director) opened the meeting by indicating that the Indians were currently engaged in a no-holds-barred attack on East Pakistan and that they had crossed the border on all sides....Although not decreeing a formal declaration of war, President Yahya has stated that 'the final war with India is upon us.'...

"Dr. Kissinger remarked that if the Indians have announced a full scale invasion, this fact must be reflected in our UN statement.

"Mr. Helms indicated that we do not know who started the current action.

"Dr. Kissinger requested that by Monday the CIA prepare an account of who did what to whom and when.

"Mr. DePalma (Assistant State Secretary) suggested that if we refer to the Indian declaration in our discussion in the UN, that we almost certainly will have to refer to remarks by Yahya.

"Dr. Kissinger replied that he was under specific instructions from the President, and either someone in the bureaucracy would have to prepare this statement along the lines indicated or that it would be done in the Whute House.

"Dr. Kissinger asked whether the Indians have stated anything to the effect that they were in an all-out war.

"Mr. Helms said that the terminology was 'no holds barred.'

"Dr. Kissinger asked what the Paks have said. Mr. Helms said the terminology was 'final war with India.' Dr. Kissinger suggested this was not an objectionable term It did not seem outrageous for the Paks to say they were trying to defend themselves.

Later in the meeting, Kissinger instructed: "On AID matters, the President wants to proceed against India only."

The secret minutes of the December 8 meeting shed more light on this:

"Dr. Kissinger emphasized that the President has made it clear that no further foreign exchange (surplus) commodities or development loans could be assigned to India without approval of the White House.

"Mr. Williams (Deputy AID Director) stated there was no problem of anything sliding through.

"Dr. Kissinger inquired what the next turn of the screw might be.

Mr. williams said that the only other possible option was taking a position concerning AID material currently under contract. This, however, would be a very messy problem inasmuch as we would be dealing with irrevokable letters of credit....

"Dr. Kissinger inquired about next year's budget. Mr. Williams stated what goes into the budget did not represent a commitment.

"Dr. Kissinger stated that current orders are to put anything in the budget for India. It was also not to be leaked that AID had put money in the budget for India only to have the 'wicked' White House take it out."

At the same time Kissinger was talking like this behind reporters' backs, he told them to their faces that the U.S.hadn't really sided with Pakistan.

Footnote: Dignified, white-named Kenneth Keating, our conscientious Ambassador to India, also disputed the White House "explanation of development of present conflict and U.S. role in seeking to avert it.

"While I appreciate the tactical necessity of justifying our position publicly," he objected in a secret cable. "I feel constrained to state elements of this particular story do not coincide with my knowledge of the events of the past eight months."

OPERATION NOAH'S ARK

A leathery Texas rancher and the Humane Society of the United States have gotten together to save 500 rare Sika and Axis deer from being slaughtered by hunters.

The ranchers A.C. Stone of Grapevine, Tex., started up the herd 20 years ago with 15 deer. He, his family and friends got to where they loved to watch the animals so much they couldn't shoot them. The herd multiplied.

But when Stone's land was marked for the new Dallas-Fort Worth airport, he had to do something about the deer. He toyed with letting hunters kill them at $250 a head and alternatley, with donating them to local orphanages as meat.

But the Humane Society's troubleshooter, Sue Pressman, heard of the impending doom of the rare animals and began rounding up homes for them. Stone told us that he has 200 to 300 placed now at about $200 per head on lumber company land, in zoos, even in Army camps.

Agnew Will Run: report Nixon has decided not to dump vice president

WASHINGTON-- The White House these days is of many kinds -- a political abode sharply divided over the future of Spiro T. Agnew.

In his favor is the one-man majority – President Nixon who is rebuffing suggestions and strategems devised to "dump" the Vice President. And on the offensive against Ted Agnew is the still awesome minority of one, John Ehrlichamn.

Ehrlichman, whom I once watched with fascination at dinner in the White House conducting three conversations at once, is target-oriented. And his target is Mr. Agnew. Some of the Vice President's intimates see Ehrlichman, who is the President's assistant for domestic affairs, as Mr. Agnew's prime political enemy in the White House. So do some of the labor chaps who have been approached as possible launchers of a Labor Committee For Nixon.

These ear-to-the-sounding-board labor men have had the full run through of capital guesstimates on the Vice President's future, e.g.: he will go to the Supreme Court; he will be dumped and be named Attorney General in the new Cabinet; he will step down in a gracious gesture for Secretary of the Treasury John Connally.

So when thelabor men are asked by one White House for advice on a national labor committee, they go to the other White House and ask who will run with the President. They will not campaign for Connally even if he offers to exile Judge Boldt and give George Meany the full Pay Board as a New Year's burnt offering.

The intensity of labor's hatred for Connally is such that one of the nation's most highly placed unionists slowly and with methodical deliberation said something recently about Connally and "Dallas" which I can only hint at here.

And this was some time before Connally dubbed AFL-CIO President George Meany arrogant and boorish. Mr. Agnew cooled it a bit by merely suggesting that Meany be given "an introductory lesson in the Ebenezer Scrooge School of Charm."

Of course there are the patterned attacks on Ted Agnew -- in public. But privately none but the militants inside labor take the Vice President as a personal insult. Many of them recall how well he represented them when he was a Maryland labor lawyer.

So those who inquried in that circle of the White House which encompasses the Oval Room were told that President Nixon now sees no reason to break up the Combination. He believes he can win with Ted Agnew. So why dump him? And he has given every sign that he doesn't plan to, it was said.

Back in September, the Vice President was dispatched to defend the new economic policy in quiet and non-abrassive terms.

This he did well. And he has been the link with the nation's governors -- of course, especially with the Republicans. This he does well, albeit one of them is Nelson Rockefeller.

Now the 6-foot-2-inch, newly soft-sell Vice President is about to hit the road again--especially in the industrial belts fist--Cleveland and Birmingham, according to his office calendar.

And he will stride across many a campus to go face-to-face with America's students. His will be a new technique for politicos. He will get off short speeches and then open himself to questions from the floor--all the way from the floor.

When he swings the homefront circuit, he will be doing what he likes best--opening up on domestic issues. This is what he has always wanted -- operation homefront. There are those who know him who chuckle when New York Mayor John Lindsay exiles all from the profession of urbanology. Baltimore hardly runs second to New York as an urban problem child.

It is as much a cross-section of social terminal disease as New York. When governor, Ted Agnew was in the midst of the same urban tempests now becoming the national issue as New York's debonair mayor reaches for the Presidential nomination of his foster party.

But the Vice President never did get the full sweeping change he wanted. Blocking this was and is John Ehrlichman, director of the President's policy-making Domestic Council. He is as close to the President as is Chuck Colson, his "right hand." Ehrlichman is the White House inside middle-of-the-roader. He doesn't see Mr. Agnew's conservative image bringing in new votes if he talks the President and allied strategists into dumping Ted Agnew.

It all actually depends on Richard Nixon who, according to those who say they know, doesn't now see anyone but Spiro Agnew running with him.

Hartke To Seek Demo Nomination

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — Sen. Vance Hartke of Indiana announced his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination today and said he would campaign in New Hampshire's primary.

He said he would decide on whether to enter presidential preference primaries in other states after his campaign for the March 7 New Hampshire balloting is organized.

Standing in the same spot where the late President John F. Kennedy announced his successful campaign 12 years ago—the lobby of the Sheraton Carpenter Hotel—Hartke said:

"The American people, and the world, cannot afford four more years of Richard Nixon's failures."

But, he added, "if the Democratic party expects to receive the mantle of leadership, it had better start leading. This campaign is all about a country which is fighting for its life. The Democratic party is entitled to have a candidate ready to lead the fight. I am ready."

17 Fire Fatalities Include 12 Children

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seventeen persons died in five fires Sunday and early today. Twelve of the dead were children, including four boys from a California family and three youngsters who died in a Kansas City home.

Thee of the fires occurred Sunday in New York Stte, including a huge blaze at a Pillsbury grain mill in Buffalo where a worker died as rescuers tried to dig him out of a pile of rubble.

A pre-dawn blaze today in Vista, Calif., took the lives of Mrs. Kenneth Collins, 30, and her sons, Bobby, 10; Jimmy, 8; Keith, 6, and Stevie, 1½. The father was reported in fair condition after the fire of undetermined origin raced through their wood and stucco house.

A fire in a Kansas City home early today killed three children of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lofton and left the parents suffering burns, smoke inhalation and shock. Th dead were Lisa, 4; Crelle, 2½, and Joseph Jr., 18 months.

In the Buffalo mill fire, Deputy Fire Commissioner Thomas Lahiff said two other workers were reported missing and were presumed dead. Ten workers were hospitalized, five in critical condition.

City fire officials theorized that a welder's torch set off the explosions and fire but Pillsbury President Terrance Hanold disagreed, saying he had been told no such equipment was in use.

John Regos, one of the 28 men at work at the time of the early morning blast, was pinned alive under debris. He died after receiving the last rites of the Catholic Church and shots of morphine to ease his pain.

More than 175 firemen, using 32 pumpers and ladder trucks, fought the blaze.

Also in Buffalo, a fire early Sunday took the lives of three men. They were identified as Joseph Jaminski and Albert Lang, both 60, and Lawrence Wilson, 35.

Five children, aged five months to six years, were trapped in a blazing house trailer in an isolated area near Pulaski, N.Y., about five miles from Lake Ontario.

The dead, all from the McDonough family, were 6year-old twins, Matthew and Francis, Patricia, 4, Timothy, 3, and Rosemary, 5 months. Their father, Frank McDonough, 49, was hospitalized in good condition with burns.

Two stepsisters and a family friend escaped the fire.

Uncertainty Rings State Capital

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) – An air of uncertainty dominates the state capital as the 1972 Missouri legislature prepares for its formal opening Wednesday.

As usual, there are more questions than answers apparent in a session where most of the important measures to be acted on are re - treads, legislation which has been in the works for several years.

The issues involved have ended in stalemates before, pointing up the well - understood attitude that nothing much is going to happen until the voters decide later this year the direction the state is going to take.

Missouri again is facing severe fiscal problems, and virtually every progressive measure to be considered will be weighed against the state's ability to pay for it.

Those occupying leadership positions in both the House and Senate are involved -- directly or indirectly -- in state or local races. Observers generally agree their performance will not be entirely divorced from political influence as it bears on the issues at hand.

One of the first problems to be faced is an emergency appropriations bill of nearly $25 million to fight water pollution, restore cuts in welfare benefits and augment funds allocated earlier to permit state agencies to continue programs for the remainder of the fiscal year.

Another problem is first to bring state unemployment benefits into line with federal standards, and worry later about reconciling differences between labor and management.

State laws regulating outdoor advertising must also be re-worked to meet federal regulations or else risk forfeiture of about $10 million annually in federal highway funds.

Another key issue is congressional redistricting, a political football in session after session since the U. S. Supreme Court delivered its one man, one vote decree nearly a decade ago.

Not the least of the lawmakers concerns, of course, is the critical problem of financing state aid to education, a factor which currently commands about half the total general revenue available to the state.

And no ready answer has been sighted if the U.S. Supreme Court should outlaw property tax as a means of partially financing education on the elementary and secondary level.

So the questions mount — welfare, legal counsel to indigents, new highways, higher education facilities, hospitals, correctional institutions, voter registration and capital improvements.

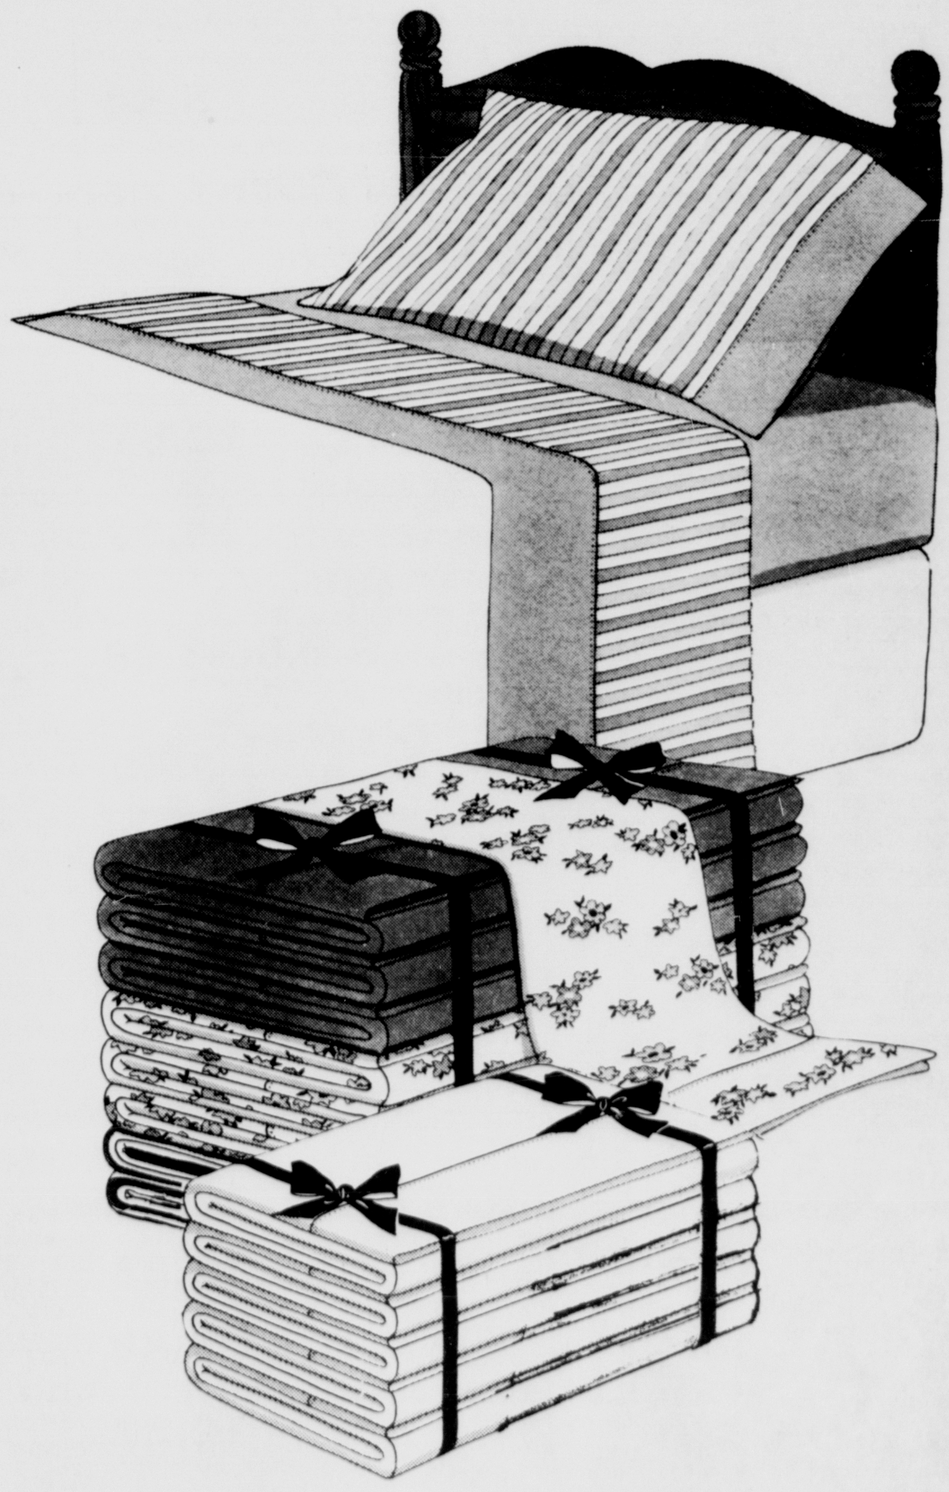

The 1972 legislature, it has been suggested, may end up exhausting its energy on such weighty matters as whether professional football games should be outlawed on Christmas Day.

Mrs. Nixon Heads Delegation To Liberia

WASHINGTON (AP) -- Off to Africa Saturday, Mrs. Richard Nixon will embark on a nine-day, 10,000-mile trip that gives her a new role as an official representative and visiting emissary of the President. It's the second foreign trip she has made on her own as first lady. The first was a relief mission to earthquake-stricken Peru in the summer of 1970.

This time, Mrs. Nixon heads a five-member official U.S. delegation to the inauguration of Liberia's new president, William Tolbert, in Monrovia Sunday through Tuesday. And she will go on for official visits to neighboring black West African republics of Ghana and Ivory Coast.

Her schedule includes a range of activities from attending white-tie formal banquets to touring hospitals and schools, watching tribal dances, meeting a African women leaders and shopping in a native market.

The President will give Mrs. Nixon a personal sendoff from Andrews Air Force Base, Md., when she departs at 8 p.m. EST New Year's Day aboard a presidential jet plane. While she is abroad, Nixon will conclude meetings with Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato in California.

A 4,100-mile, non-stop over-night flight across the Atlantic will bring Mrs. Nixon to the Liberian capital Sunday morning. She will be greeted by Tolbert and his wife as their top-ranking foreign guest at inaugural festivities.

A vice president for 19 years, the 58-year-old Tolbert, a wealthy rubber planter, succeeds the late President William Tubman as head of the black republic that was launched in 1822 by freed American slaves. Tubman, who had been president for 23 years, died in Julv.

Mrs. Nixon will review Liberian troops, make a few brief speeches and attend the oath-taking, a colorful parade and the traditional formal inaugural ball and banquet.

She will leave Monrovia Wednesday for a two-day stay in Accra, Ghana, and then spend Jan. 7-9 in Abidjan, Ivory Coast, known as the "African Riviera."

Jan. 16 Commencement Exercises At SEMO

CAPE GIRARDEAU -- Dr. Herbert W. Schooling, interim chancellor of the Columbia campus of the University of Missouri for the past year, will be the speaker Jan. 16 when Southeast Missouri State College holds commencement exercise for the first time ever in the middle of an academic year.

Nearly 300 seniors and graduate students are scheduled to receive bachelor's and master's degree's at the ceremonies, which will begin at 3 p.m. in the auditorium of Academic Hall.

About half of the graduating students will receive bachelor of science in education degrees, and about one-fifth of the class will receive bachelor of science in busines administration degrees.

Southeast Missouri State has traditionally held commencement exercises in the spring, and a few years ago initiated graduation ceremonies at the close of the summer term. However, students finishing their degree requirements at mid-year have previously had to wait until the spring commencement to formally receive their degrees.

Dr. Mark F.Scully, president of Southeast Missouri State, said a mid-year commencement will allow graduating students to invite more members of their families

He also noted that students often found it difficult to return to the campus in May after finishing in January and said students sometimes were handicapped because they did not have a diploma "in hand," even though they had officially completed graduation requirements.

Dr. Schooling began his administration career at UMC as dean of the College of Education in 1963. He was the first person in the history of the UMC campus to be named provost and only the second Columbia campus dean of faculties. He was named to the latter post in 1966 and given the added assignment of provost in 1969.

As provost, Dr. Schooling was the chief official of the chancellor's administrative staff and was concerned with campus-wide operations that relate to the achievement of the university's educational objectives. In his capacity as dean of faculties Dr. Schooling was directly concerned with matters of educational policy, curriculum, aacademic staff, and the budgets of the various campus divisions.

Born in Lawrence County near Pierce City in 1912, Dr. Schooling came to UMC after six years as superintendent of schools at Webster Groves, two years as an associate professor of education at the University of Chicago, and 11 years as superintendent of schools at North Kansas City.

He received his bachelor of arts degree from Southwest Missouri State and both his master's degree and doctorate from the University of Missouri.

Dr. Schooling has been active in professional associations and has served as president of the Missouri Association of Secondary School Principals, the Missouri Association of School Administrators, and the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges.

Ann Landers

Heroin Psalm Put Into Congressional Record

Dear Ann Landers: Senator Sam J. Ervin Jr. of North Carolina inserted this into the Congressional Record. It's a heartbreaker. Will you print it, please?

"King Heroin is my sheperd, I shall always want ...

"These tragic words, part of a twisted rewording of the beloved 23rd Psalm, were discovered recently in Reidsville, N.C., in a closed car alongside a dead heroin addict. She was 23 years old.

"Her death was ruled a suicide. A hookup with the car's exhaust had sent carbon monoxide fumes from a running motor into the vehicle. Here's the complete 'Psalm.'

"King Heroin is my sheperd, I shall always want. He maketh me to lie down in the gutters.

"He leadeth me beside the troubled waters. He destroyeth my soul.

"He leadeth me in the paths of wickedness.

"Yea, I shall walk through the valley of poverty and will fear no evil for thou, Heroin, are with me.

"Thy Needle and Capsule comfort me. Thou strippest the table of groceries in the presence of my family. Thou robbest my head of reason.

"My cup of sorrow runneth over. Surely heroin addiction shall stalk me all the days of my life and I will dwell in the House of the Damned forever."

Also found in the car with the dead woman was this written message:

"Jail didn't cure me. Nor did hospitalization help me for long. The doctor told my family it would have been better, and indeed kinder, if the person who got me hooked on dope had taken a gun and blown my brains out. And I wish to God he had. My God, how I wish it." -- A Reader

Dear Reader: Thank you.

Dear Ann Landers: Somehow, I became the victim of the unwelcome neighbor. I remained victimized by her for two years. Mrs. Noodnik was at my door ringing the doorbell before I was out of bed. She invited herself in, had coffee and stayed. At 11:30 it was necessary for her to go home and take her pills and a nap, so she left. At 5:30 Mrs. Noodnik was back. She had fed her husband a can of tuna for supper and was ready to join us at our dinner table for a cup of coffee.

Every time I backed the car out of the garage she was standing in the driveway with a "request." Would I please bring her a pack of cigarettes or a loaf of bread or a quart of milk or some postage stamps?

My husband got so fed up with her presence he told me that if I didn't keep that woman out of our house he was leaving. You are right, Ann. There is no polite way to handle clods. They must be told off in plain language. They do not understand tact or social grace.

Please keep telling 'em, Ann. People need to hear it again and again and again. --A Slow Learner

Dear Learner: I will, I will, I will. Thanks for writing.

Dear Ann Landers: I enjoyed your statement about family trees, "Too often they turn out an abundance of sap." Please print this added thought: "Also some crooked branches." -- M.B. (Chicago)

Dear Chic: Right, You are. And shady, too.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Saving the Cookies For the Holidays

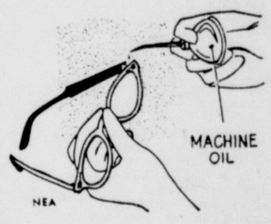

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—About this time of year my mother is doing her Christmas baking and putting things away in the freezer to be ready for the holidays. Hungry kids used to eat a lot of it ahead of time, then when she wanted to serve something "the cupboard was bare." Last year mother came up with a new idea. She rinsed out one-quart milk containers and let them get perfectly dry. These were packed with cookies, the tops stapled and the contents marked on the outside. Little fingers were kept out and less freezing space was required.—N. N.

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—Please tell me the best way to preserve a new mahogany front door. Also, what is meant by a chemical garden?—RUNAR

DEAR POLLY—My "pettiest" Pet Peeve, and I have many of them, upsets me no end. It is infuriating to be driving and see a little old lady or man slowly walking along bent over or with a bag of groceries and maybe having to use a cane, too, and then actually have to run or certainly hasten his or her pace to get out of the way fast enough. My fury is directed at those hateful smart alecks who have blared on their horns right behind those elderly people and scared them out of their wits so they try to run for fear of being run over. I hope each and everyone of these uncaring, unfeeling people will be reminded of this in later years when they cannot get about so quickly. Some seem to delight in frightening these older ones. I am not aged in case you are wondering; I am 40.—MORRIS

DEAR POLLY—If the hinges on my eyeglasses become "frozen" from salt air or perspiration, I put a drop of machine oil on each hinge and work it gently back and forth. This saves me costly breakage.—MRS. C. E. J.

DEAR POLLY—Bonnie will find that most supermarkets and housewares departments sell a very handy little gadget designed especially for opening cans of condensed milk. It is a stainless steel cover with two prongs. When put on the can it punches two holes and can be used for a cover if the milk is not all used at one time. They come in two sizes and fit both the regular and small tins of milk, I find mine most useful as well as sanitary.—MARY

BLOOMFIELD — Coach Larry Joplin's Richland Rebels swept through its final opponent with relative ease to claim the championship of the 15th annual Wildcat invitational basketball tournament New Year's Eve, blasting the events cinderella Oran Eagle team 88-50.

Dexter made off with the third place prize with a mild upset of third seeded Matthews, 56-48.

However it was the Rebels and MHS Pirates who waltzed away with the biggest prizes. Richland's peppy cheerleading group was named the event's top performers and Matthews was named for its second sportsmanship award on the season after having won the Bernie honor earlier.

The final night was anti-climatic to Thursday's semi-final that saw Oran upset Matthews and Richland slip past Dexter.

The Dexter Bearcats took the third place trophy Friday night with a 56-48 victory over the Matthews Pirates. Led by Danny Summers' 18 points and Mike McQuire's 17, the Bearcats' slow-down offense killed the inexperienced Pirates. The turnovers hurt Matthews as well as the fact that for the second straight night their field shooting was erratic. The Pirates rebounded well, led by Raymond Bledsoe and Armand Porter, but they couldn't find the range from the court. Their scoring was led by 5-foot-11 senior guard Gary McWaters who scored 15 points. Armand Porter was next with 12 and Bledsoe had 10. However, the two big sophomores did not match their performances in the first two games of the tournament that the Pirates played.

Without the big Richland ballplayers jamming the ball down their collective throats, the Bearcats were deadly. They too rebounded well as neither team had a definite edge in height and both teams got their share of the caroms. Leading the defensive effort and top rebounder for Dexter was 6-foot-3 forward Ralph Thurston.

Dexter was never threatened in the contest. In fact, the only time Matthews led was early in the contest as they held a 4-2 lead. The Bearcats outscored Matthews, 9-2, from there to the end of the quarter and led, 11-6. The score was 24-18 at half for the Bearcats and they held this six to ten point lead the rest of the way. Dexter held the edge in second half scoring, too, 32-30. The only quarter Matthews was able to maintain a scoring edge was the third when they had the edge, 13-12.

The night's final contest was supposed to be the thriller, with the cinderrella Oran team going against number one-seeded Richland. Unfortunately for the Oran fans, the Rebs put any thoughts of upset out of their minds early, jumping to 11 points first half lead, and then continuing to pour it on until the first reserve stepped onto the court with less than two minutes to play. It was the second-largest victory margin in the tournaments history, 88-50, when the buzzer sounded, mercifully ending the game.

The Eagles were unfortunate to pick this night for their cold shooting night of the tourney. If they had hit as they had in earlier games it could have been a different story. However, they weren't hitting and against the Rebels they did not have the rebound power to make up for their shooting. On the night Oran shot 36.2 per cent while Richland hit 50 per cent. But, that was not the difference. The difference was in the rebound department where Richland held a 58-23 bulge, led by 25 big rebounds for John Sims. Sims was superb all night, hitting 29 points as Richland had three men in double figures. John Sims was followed by Norman Cole with 26 points and brother Dennis Sims with 20.

The only advantage for the Eagles on the night was in the turnover department where they had seven less than the loose-playing Rebels, 17-10. However, the Rebels could afford offensive mistakes because they made very few on defense. Paul Taylor led the Eagles with 12 points, while the Rebs held high-scoring Otis Burley to 11 and the team's quarterback, Mike LeGrand got just 10.

The score at half was 38-27 in favor of Richland.

After that things got much worse for the underdogs. Robert Gipson, who was so tough against Matthews, could not seem to find the range. Gipson was held to seven points on the night and none in the third period where Oran was outscored, 28-10. Trailing 66-37 entering the last quarter, the Eagles desperately tried to slow things down, but the Rebs continued to score, holding a 22-13 edge for the quarter.

ORAN'S Robert Gigson (20) grabs off one of the few rebounds that the Eagles got during the championship game of the 15th annual Bloomfield Holiday tournament New Year's Eve. Most of the carooms went to Richland who waltzed to the title behind an 88-50 victory. Dennis Sims (32), Rebel forward, makes a vain attempt for the ball as Oran's Mike LeGrand (24) looks on.

DAVIS MATHIS (13) makes a steal from an unidentified Matthews player during the consolation game of the 15th annual Bloomfield Holiday tournament New Year's Eve. Dexter made off with third place honors in a mild upset of third seeded Matthews, 56-48.

Farmington Tops At FR

By BILL HARRISON

FLAT RIVER — Third seeded Farmington waltzed to the championship of the holiday classic here Friday night by downing the Leadwood Purple Pups 75-56 to end the 1971 season on a high note and give the Knights a bright basketball outlook in the 1972 year. Lutheran South overpowered the Fredericktown Blackcats 76=51 to take third place.

Fredericktown didn't have enough scoring power to stay with the taller Lancers and never were in the game from the outset as Lutheran South took a 20-12 first period lead and added three more points to their total in the second quarter scoring 18 while holding the Blackcats to 15 and leading 38-27 at the half.

The second half proved to be more frustration for the Fredericktwon team as the Lancers took the third period 14-10 and raced to a 24-14 last quarter advantage.

The lancers held Steve Kamerman to 16 points as the big post man was the Blackcats high man.

6-9 Jose Hesse was the big scorer for the Lancers, scoring 33 points for his nights work.

The big factor in the game were the free throws that Lutheran South hit. The Lancers canned 26 charity tosses to only seven for the Blackcats. The Lancers had only a 25-22 advantage in field goal shooting.

Farmington had too much scoring power for the Leadwood team as the Pups were unable to win their second consecutive championship.

Farmington hit 27 field goal shot to 19 for the Pups. Larry Reid and Terry Mell were the leading scorers for the Knights with 20 points apiece. Merrill led the Pup attack with 16 points.

Leadwood jumped out in front in the first period 17-14 but the Pups had a terrible second quarter and never were able to recover as Farmington scored 16 points in the period to nine for Leadwood and never let up.

With the score 30-26 at the start of the second half, Farmington put everything together and ran up a 26-17 third period edge. The last quarter belonged to Farmington 19-13.

Cape Central Tops Charleston In Final

CAPE GIRARDEAU — Cape Central Coach Dan Mulligan welcomed in the new year as no one else this year, admiring the Championship trophy won by his troops in the College High basketball tournament. His number two seeded Tigers turned in an inspired secondhalf finished to drop the top rated Charleston Blue Jays in a 60-57 finale of the sixteen teamed tourney.

For Coach Mulligan, 1971 was one to be long remembered, as his Tigers accumulated an 11-1 mark in the first half of the 1971-1972 season. Central's lone loss came early in the season as the Bengal crew fell to Fredricktown in the finals of the Farmington tournament.

Central's 60-57 championship effort brought the Tigers its first Championship trophy in the College High Holiday tournament in eight years. Central collected the top honors in both the 1961 and 1962 finals. The victory brought the Cape Central winning streak to nine games.

In the Blue Jays disappointing defeat, the Charleston fans were for the second year in a row left with the second place trophy. Last year the Notre Dame Bulldogs claimed the Championship Trophy in the finals, handing Charleston one of its two defeats in the 1970-71 season. The Sikeston Bulldogs downed the Blue Jays in the finals of the Class L Regional last year for the only other Blue Jays loss.

Fourth seeded Lilbourn, led by Bill Wheeler's 25 point total, claimed the consolation honors of the tourney with a 66-62 overtime victory over the third rated Kelly Hawks. Lilbourn rallied to overcome an eight point deficite in the fourth quarter to send the contest into the extra three minute frame. Lilbourn remained hot and outscoring the Hawks 10-6 in the overtime frame for the third place trophy.

Central and Charleston were tied at half in the championship event, 31-31, as the Tigers put together an 18-15 scoring edge in the second frame to overcome a three point first quarter deficite. Throughout the season, Central's inside shooting had been a big factor in the Tiger's nine game winning streak.

Charleston had managed to choke off the Tiger's inside threat throughout the firsthalf, as the defensive mined Jays check the inside sights of the Tiger's six feet -four Dick Buxton and six foot-five Hunter Stiegemeyer.Bengal coach Dan Mulligan inserted six foot-four Randy Carter in the second quarter, whose outside shooting opened up the Blue Jay defense. Carter's appearance opened up the basket for the Tigers' inside threat. Buxton hit eight buckets in the final half, while Stiegenmeyer in the inside attack joined to paced the Central crew offense.

Central grabbed the lead with 30 seconds remaining in the third quarter and held on throughout the final quarter for the three point victory. Charleston missed a final shot at the championship, as the Blue Jays took three shots at the basket with seconds remaining before Central's Buxton ripped off the rebound. Buxton was fouled and sunk the final two free throws for the 3 point Tiger victory.

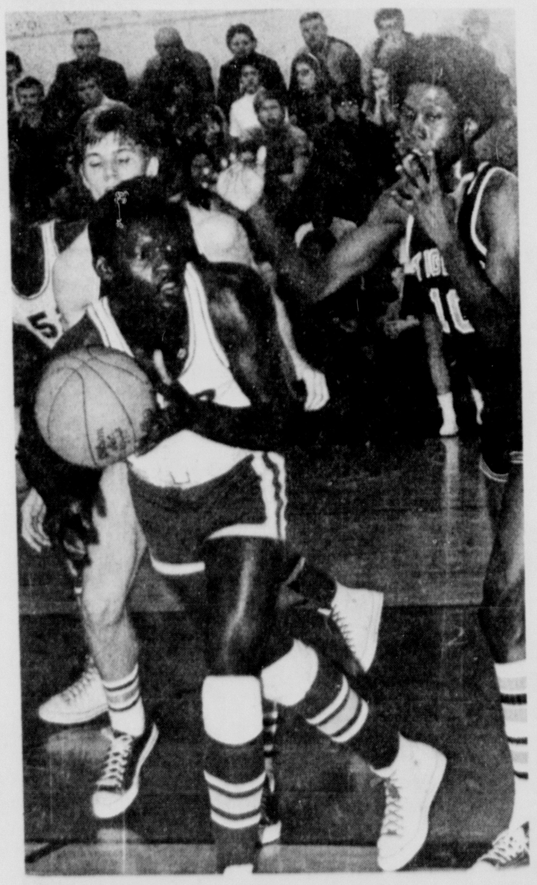

Central put in a 50 per cent showing from the free throw line in the game, good for only four points, while the Blue Jays were five for five from the charity stripe.

Buxton finished the game with 14 points for the Tigers, while teammate Roland Daye, an other six four Bengal, collected scoring honors with his 22 point total.

Charleston's Alvin Pierce pumped in 24 points for the Blue Jays while Albri Cassell added 13.

Bill Wheeler's 25 points paced the Panther's 66-62 win in the consolation game with the Kelly Hawks. Trailing by nine points at half, 28-37, the Panthers put together a second half effort that picked up the nine and sent the squads into the over time frame.

Kelly's six foot one Mike Morrow paced the Hawks from the floor with a 23 point total. Teammate Dirnberger assisted with a 15 point effort.

CHARLESTON'S HIGH SCORING ALBRI CASSELL dribbles around Cape Central's Roland Daye in the Blue jays championship contest with the Tigers in the College High Christmas tournament. Cassell pumped in 13 points for the Charleston squad, while Daye topped the Central scoring with 22 total points. Central picked up the championship trophy with a 60-57 first place finish.

Big 8 Leaders Crush Bowl Opponents

Unbeaten Nebraska erased any question about who's No. 1 in college football by romping to a 38-6 triumph over second - ranked — and previously unbeaten — Alabama in the Orange Bowl Saturday night.

"This is one of the greatest teams ever to play football," boasted Nebraska Coach Bob Devaney.

His courterpart at Alabama, Paul "Bear' Bryant, agreed. "They are one of the greatest — if not the greatest — teams I've ever seen," Bryant said. "We were beaten soundly by a far superior team. Most of the time they just toyed with us."

Nebraska — finishing its season 13-0 and stretching its winning streak to 23 games and its undefeated skein to 32 — overwhelmed Alabama in the first half. The Cornhuskers exploded for four touchdowns within eight minutes, 12 seconds of the first half on offense, while smothering Alabama's wishbone attack on defense.

In other New Year's Day Bowl games, third - ranked Oklahoma roared to a 31-0 halftime lead, then coasted past Auburn 40-22 in the Sugar Bowl; sophomore Rod Garcia booted a 31- yard field goal with 12 seconds left to give Stanford a 13-12 upset victory over No. 4 Michigan in the Rose Bowl and Penn State, trailing 6-3 at the half, surged back to outscore Texas 27-0 in the second half and take a 30-6 decision over the Longhorns in the Cotton Bowl.

In Friday contests, Colorado whipped Houston 29-17 in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl, Georgia squeaked past North Carolina 7-3 in the Gator Bowl and the West squad edged the East 17-13 in the East -West Shrine Game.

The final Associated Press national rankings will not be released until Tuesday, but the Cornhuskers left little doubt about who'll grab the top spot.

Jerry Tagge masterfully guided the Nebraska offense to a 28-0 halftime lead, capitalizing on frequent miscues by Alabama. Johnny Rodgers turned in the game's most electrifying play, a 77-yard punt return in the first quarter for Nebraska's second touchdown.

And all the while, Nebraska'd defense stifled Alabama quarterback Terry Davis, running back Johnny Musso and their teammates.

"I guess we hit a little too tough and a little too quick," said All-American middle guard Rich Glover, a 234-pound terror on defense for Nebraska.

Meanwhile, in the other locker room, Musso sat with head bowed and moaned:

"We were so bad."

Jack Mildren, the most valuable player in the Sugar Bowl, quarterbacked Oklahoma's Wishbone offense to perfection as the Sooners whipped No. 5 Auburn. Mildren led the Sooners to 439 yards rushing, personally picking up 149 yards on 30 carries, including touchdown runs of five, four and seven yards.

Pat Sullivan, Auburn's Heisman Trophy winning quarterback, completed 20 of 44 passes for 250 yards and one touchdown, but was held in check by the Sooner defense until the third quarter, by which time Oklahoma had built up a 34-0 lead.

"There is no doubt they are the biggest, strongest, finest looking team I've seen," Sullivan raved.

The field goal by Garcia in the Rose Bowl climaxed a dramatic last - minute drive engineered by Stanford quarterback Don Bunce.

Taking over with 1:48 remaining to play, Bunce moved his team 78 yards in eight plays, including five complete passes for 66 yards.

"We were really pulling some plays out of the air at the end," Bunce said after the game. "I was so excited I didn't even know what I was calling. All the plays on that last drive were audibles."

Michigan had taken a 12-10 lead late in the fourth quarter on a safety when Ed Shuttlesworth tackled Jim Ferguson of Stanford in the Indians' end zone. Ferguson was trying to run back a short field goal attempt.

Penn State, licking its wounds after losing to Tennessee 31-11 in a nationally televised regular season finale, made believers out of the Texas Longhorns with a powerful defensive effort. The Nittany Lions caused five Texas fumbles and held the Longhorns without a touchdown — something that had not happened in 80 games.

"I don't think we ever had a bigger win when we needed one," said Penn State Coach Joe Paterno.

"They deserved to win in every respect," conceded Texas Coach Darrell Royal.

All-American running back Lydell Mitchell gained 146 yards on 27 carries for Penn State, including one touchdown on a one -yard run.

Sophomore tailback Charlie Davis gained 202 yards on 37 carries to pace Colorado in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl.

Defense dominated the Gator Bowl, with Jimmy Poulos scoring the game's only touchdown on a 25-yard run. Poulos gained 161 yards for Georgia and was voted the game's most valuable player.

SMU's Gary Hammond threw two touchdowns to lead the West team to victory in the 47th annual Shrine East - West game. Hammond also caught two passes as a flanker and played some at running back.

MU Faces Ohio U. Tuesday

COLUMBIA, Mo. — Missouri's Big Eight tournament champions try to maintain their hot hand against Ohio U. in Athens Tuesday night. Tipoff is at 6:30 p.m. CST.

The Bobcats (3-5) currently are struggling to get their basketball house in order. After stunning Ohio State and Indiana, Coach Jim Snyder's team has dropped four straight to Michigan, Detroit, Cincinnati and Marshall.

Missouri, meantime, is away to its best start in Coach Norm Stewart's five-year hitch at his alma mater. The Tigers are 10-1, with that only blemish inflicted by Kentucky, 83-79, in the Kentucky Invitational.

The Bengals cut down Kansas State, 67-58, to win their first conference tourney trophy in 17 years at Kansas City Thursday night. John Brown, Mizzou's 6-ft. 7 scoring and rebounding ace, earned the Most Valuable Player award and a first-team tournament berth. His front-court cohorts – sophomore Al Eberhard and hustling Mike Jeffries -- were second team choices.

Stewart lauded Missouri's defense for its consistency throughout the three-game tournament grind. But -- the Bengals also kept intact on a foreign court their 50 per cent shooting accuracey.

Ohio U. nearly exploded the Tiger's Brewer field house mystique last winter, finally bowing in a double overtime, 91-83. Harassing Mizzou with a pressing defense, the Bobcats lost five players on excessive fouls.

After this final non-league test, Missouri will be idle until a mid-January road trip into Oklahoma. The Tigers open conference action against Oklahoma and Oklahoma State.

Cowboys Sink 49ers

DALLAS (AP) — A bloodied young quarterback on his way to stardom and a veteran defensive end fighting for his job keyed the perennial "Next Year's Champion" Dallas Cowboys into the Super bowl Sunday for the second consecutive year.

Quarterback Roger Staubach, a three - year man from Navy, scrambled San Francisco dizzy in a 14-3 National Conference title victory in Texas Stadium and defensive end George Andrie made the big defensive play.

"Look out Super Bowl," said Cowboy tackle Bob Lilly.

"Some fans sort of ridiculed our play last year and I think we have something to prove."

There was little disappointment among the Cowboys playes that they would not get a chance for revenge against Baltimore in the Super Bowl and instead would play Miami.

"We never really cared about the opponent," said linebacker LeRoy Jordan. "I said last year we would be back. And we are going to do it this time."

Andrie's interception of a John Brodie pass and his six-yard run to the 49er two -yard line in the second quarter was the defensive gem of bitterly fought game. Calvin Hill, who later left the game with an injured knee, crashed across from one -yard out for the touchdown.

Dallas' 7-0 lead held up until Bruce Gossett kicked a 28-yard field goal to make it 7-3 in the third period.

Andrie, who had shared duty this year with Pat Toomay, said, "It was just an impulsive play. We had studied San Francisco's screen plays. We were blitzing and I just saw the screen coming. Brodie threw the ball right to me. I don't think he saw me."

Andrie was tackled by Brodie and took severe ribbing from his teammates.

"George didn't wait for my block," said Dallas' other defensive end Larry Cole.

Staubach finally took some pressure off the Doomsday Defense with an 80-yard drive in 14 plays deep in the fourth quarter.

Staubach, who had guided Dallas to nine consecutive victories, nailed tight end Bill Truax for 22 yards on a crucial third - and - four situation at the Dallas 45 on the drive.

Then the former Heisman Trophy winner scrambled for eight yards — his fifth run of the day against the 49ers. Duane Thomas climaxed the drive with a two - yard touchdown run. "I was having a hard time the way San Francisco was double teaming both receivers," Staubach said. "The ball was taking off on me. I didn't want to put it up for an interception. Remember, I'm just a young guy."

Staubach got a bloodied elbow and was asked if he suffered it on one of his scrambles.

"I think I got it when I came off the field and coach Tom Landry bit me," Staubach joked.

Landry said Staubach's wild scrambles certainly aren't planned.

"He runs enough without any plays," smiled Landry.

San Francisco coach Dick Nolan said, "Roger's scrambling certainly helped."

Linebacker Frank Nunley added, "I think he's sometimes overlooked as a great passer because people think of him as a scrambler. He's a great passer."

And Nunley predicted, "Dallas is going to win the Super Bowl, There's no doubt in my mind."

Dallas limited San Francisco to nine first downs and intercepted Brodie three times.

SPORTS BRIEFS

Many Happy Returns

Abe Woodson holds the NFL record for most seasons leading the league in kick-off returns. The University of Illinois speedster paced the loop three times while playing for San Francisco.

Lion Power

Steve Owens, the hard-running back who is starring for the Detroit Lions this season after a lackluster rookie year in 1970, is the fifth former Heisman Trophy winner to play for Detroit. Frank Sinkwich, Doak Walker, Leon Hart and Howard "Hopalong" Cassady also went on to become Lions after earning the trophy in college.

Royal Relations

Arkansas University defensive tackle Archie Bennett is descended from a Samoan princess, whom his grandfather, a missionary, married.

Plimpton Perspective

George Plimpton, the Mittyesque author, has this comparison to make between the Detroit Lions, with whom he trained in 1964 and the Baltimore Colts, his "teammates" for three weeks this summer: "The Lions were a group of very distinctive individuals — a variety of characters. If one had to find a word to fit the Baltimore team of 1971 it would be 'solidarity.' Perhaps that is a quality that comes with being champion."

The Baron Reigns

Kentucky's 70-year-old patriarch, Adolph Rupp, has the best lifetime record among college basketball coaches who have coached at least five seasons. Rupp's 853 wins and .823 winning percentage give him a comfortable margin over second-place Johnny Wooden of UCLA, who has 553 wins and a .783 percentage. Rupp is also the only coach to lead a college team in more than 1,000 games.

Philosophy

When Alabama's Crimson Tide marched 97 yards to score against the University of Houston in a tough game, Houston coach Bill Yoeman was asked how he felt about it. "Actually," he said, "I would just as soon see a nine-yard drive. It's much easier on the equipment."

Homer's Pace

Homer Jones is the all-time NFL leader in yards-per-pass reception with a 22.3 yard average on 224 catches in seven seasons.

Dubious Distinction

Hal Greer of the Philadelphia 76ers is closing in on Dolph Schayes' all-time NBA record for most personal fouls committed in a career. Schayes was whistled for 3,667 infractions while Greer started the current season with 3,504.

Rushing Habit

Washington Redskin defensive end Verlon Biggs says getting a quick start off the line is vital to rushing the passer. "It's got to become automatic," he says. "It's like eating in the dark. Your elbow bends and your mouth flies open. It's got to be a habit like that."

Twins Carriers

Kentucky Colonel guard Darel Carrier has a twin brother, Harel.

MIAMI (AP) — Batten down the hatches, New Orleans. Fasten your seat belts, Dallas Cowboys. You haven't seen anything yet.

The Miami Dolphins are Super Bowl bound, and they take with them the hopes of the downtrodden and the loudest, wildest cheering section in professional football.

The Dolphins, the one time step-child of the American Football League, keep bumping off the big boys. And the people here on this sub-tropical Peninsula just keep on yelling, screaming, bragging and waving handkerchiefs until the outsider fears his ears and nerves will surely pop.

It's the 1969 baseball Mets with palm trees, green sweat shirts and helmets.

On Sunday, it was time for the champion Baltimore Colts - the poised team of Johnny Unitas and gargantuan Bubba Smith- to get their come-uppance just as the Kansas City Chiefs got theirs in double overtime the week before.

The Dolphins whipped the Colts 21-0 - the first shutout for the defending National Football League Champions since the Chicago Bears pulled one off Dec. 5, 1965 - and qualified to meet the Dallas Cowboys in the Super Bowl at New Orleans Jan. 16.

Delphin fans fell into a state of hysteria.

Now nobody is shrugging off this brash band of former raga-muffins, coached by Don Shula and quarterbacked by Bob Griese, five years out of Purdue - least of all the vanquished Colts.

"Can Miami beat the Cowboys? I don't know why not," said Baltimore's 38-year-old field general, Unitas. "They're a fine team. Griese is a good quarterback. They have a good rush. They don't make many mistakes.

The 6-foot-8, 265-pound Bubba Smith, black, bearded and dazzled by the systematic destruction of the great Colts team, was quick to agree.

"You bet," said Smith. "But they gotta run the ball and they gotta rush the passer. They do things like our team is famous for doing, capitalizing on the other team's mistkaes and then hitting when you got the other team groggy. They're good."

The beaten giant - hours after the final score had gone on the scoreboard - still was unwilling to believe that disaster had really struck.

"It's a mystery to me — I don't understand it," he mumbled in his beard, shaking his head. "I think this team is better than the one a year ago when we won. It's the best Baltimore team in the five years on the squad.

"Yet these guys went out and beat us at our own game."

Don McCafferty, who moved up to head coach when Don Shula left the Colts to take over the Dolphins' meager fortunes two years ago, offered his own considered version of the upset. "They came up with the big plays," he said, "and we didn't.

When we needed a filed goal, we missed. When we needed a pass, we didn't get it. When we needed five yards on third down, we failed."

The Dolphins produced a textbook victory. They gave Unitas breathing room and then stopped him cold when he started to threaten. Their blocking was decisive, their tackling vicious, they struck with merciless swiftness.

The game was little more than eight minutes old when Griese faded back and arched a pass into the arms to wide receiver Paul Warfield on the Baltimore 40. Warfield, in full stride, caught the ball over Rick Volk's shoulder and then won the race to the goal line - a 75-yard thrust. Little Garo Yepremian kicked the first of his three extra points. With 4: 33 left in the third period, a Unitas pass to Eddie Hinton was tipped by defender Curtis Johnson. Safety Dick Anderson caught it in the air and, behind great blocking, raced 62 yards to score. Now it was 14-0.

The Dolphins dealth the coup de grace in the last period, Larry Csonka scoring from the five after a 50-yard Griese pass to Warfield.

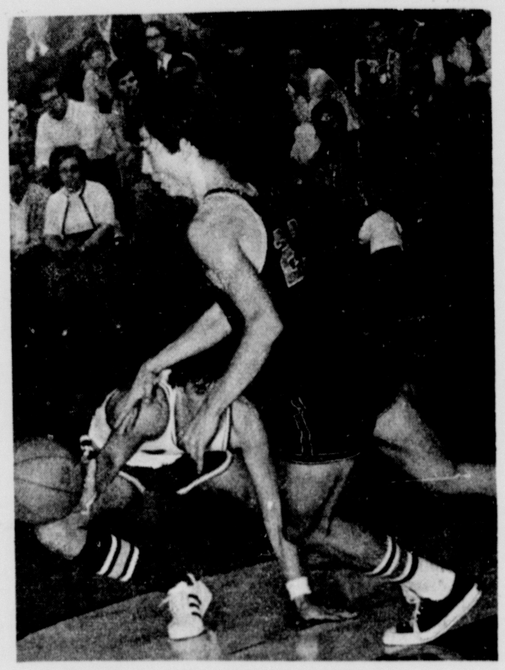

The Colts, who beat the Cowboys in the Super Bowl here a year ago on a 32-yard field goal by Jim O'Brien, played without hard-running Norm Bulaich and with only partial service from workhorse Tom Matte, both injured.

But it's doubtful that the staunchest Colts fan would think the two men's presence might have altered the outcome.

EVERYBODY FIGHTS

BLOEMFONTEIN, South Africa (AP) — Two teenage amateur boxers stopped mixing it up in the ring and burst out crying when they saw their fathers fighting in the audience.

The parental dispute became a free for all when would-be peacemakers started brawling.

AN UNIDENTIFIED CHARLESTON player makes an attempt to steal the ball from Cape Central's Randy Carter in the Blue Jay-Tiger championship bout of the College High Christmas tournament. Carter scored 11 points for the Tigers as they posted a 60-57 victory over the top seeded Charleston team for the championship.

Is now the time to buy land?

Acquiring that new farm without delay might seem more practical if you considered the benefits of financing through the Federal Land Bank. Today's expensive land is easier to pay for when its cost is amortized over extra years with a long-term Land Bank Loan. Your total cost of borrowing, too, can be less with a Land Bank loan.

As your local Land Bank Association, we offer a complete loan service: We know current land values; we will inspect the property being considered. We will examine your overall plans and resources, and make an income projection. We will then make a loan recommendation that fits your needs precisely and, whenever possible, provide the capital it takes to meet your goals.

Gentlemen:

I just finished reading a small article in the Southeast Missourian, stating your organization together with five others across the State was opposed to the soft drink tax to support an expanded conservation program.

I am witnessing our own Cape County dwindle and succumb to the asphalt, concrete and bulldozer. Uncontrolled development is rapidly consuming our acres, which results in an irregular and unhealthy community. Sikeston and Scott County has lots of growing room, so you think, but lets take a look down I-55 from Chicago to New Orleans fifty or a hundred years from now. It doesn't take much foresight to realize our children and grandchildren will not have a forest or field to walk in. Irresponsible farming practices have consumed your forest for the most part now.

I can't imagine a young group of people, such as your organization, having young families and not realizing the need for this conservation effort. I am of the opinion the decision to oppose the soft drink issue was reached by the board and not by a vote from the floor.

Also, from the article in the Southeast Missourian, I feel you are not very well informed. I ask you, take time to study the total issue before you condemn a worthy effort.

I have referred to this bill as a tax, because that is the way people who oppose the issue refer to it. Rather, I as a middle age, middle income, city dweller would not call it a tax at all, but a token price to the land that will give us more peace of - mind than cars, dollars, or gross sales.

Look to your south and vision what your county will be if we don't use careful planning and yes, controls to build a harmonious situation between industry and agriculture. Careful planning includes setting aside land for public use, and there is no better organization to handle this job than the Missouri Conservation Commission. Could you imagine living in the State of Missouri without them?

Just concerned, with no dollar profit attached.

Yours very truly,
Willaim E. Masterson
Cape Girardeau, Mo.

P.S. Could this be read at your next meeting? Or better yet, could I have five to thirty minutes time at your next meeting?

Champagne, Caviar Business Booming

NEW YORK (AP) – The year 1971 may have been a time of economic belt - tightening, but champagne and caviar sales suggest that many Americans are preparing to welcome in the new year in lavish style.

Dealers and importers of the "bubbly" and top quality eggs of the sturgeon reported demand for both luxury items was strong, with little price resistance by customer.

Caviar was in short supply and in most shops the prices are higher than last year.

Imported champagne was plentiful -- stocks were laid in before the 10 per cent surcharge was imposed temporarily and before the dock strike on the East Coast. Prices were holding fairly steady but there are warnings that after the holidays there will be increases.

Domestic champagne, the bulk of which is produced in California, also was in good supply. A spokesman for the California wine growers said there had been only slight price increases since last year, the boosts depending on the type of wine.

"This is a big year for us," said a spokesman for Sherry-Lehman, Inc., a New York wine and spirits store. "Champagne is flowing like water around here."

He said some customers were buying for next year in anticipation of higher prices -- due to currency devaluation and rising prices for grapes in France.

In Dallas, champagne sales were brisk. An official of Neiman -Marcus Co. said: "They bought all we could get our hands on," but declined to give sales figures.

Fifty 12-bottle packages of Bollinger French 1966 vintage, priced at $89.95 each, "sold out in a hurry" at Stop and Shop, Chicago's largest gourmet store.

The caviar trade, despite short supplies and rising prices, still found demand firm.
